Pact Would Let Nixon Sign Bills, Ike Asserts

Soviets Willing To Hold Summit Meeting In U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 5 (P)—President Eisenhower said today Russia's leaders have told him they are willing to come to the United States for a summit conference on East-West tensions.

He disclosed this at a news conference. But, he stressed it would be "absolutely futile" and "in my opinion damaging" to convene any such meeting unless it was adequately prepared in advance.

He firmly endorsed Secretary of State Dulles' move yesterday in rejecting conditions Russia has proposed for a presummit parley.

Dulles called for Russia to agree that solid progress in settling current problems must be made at a foreign ministers' meeting in advance of the session of top leaders.

Soviet sources said Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov had informed Eisenhower Monday of the readiness of Premier Bulganin and other Soviet leaders to come to the United States. These sources said Kremlin leaders were willing to meet anywhere in the United States that Eisenhower picked.

Eisenhower in answering newsmen said the Russians had been "kind enough" to recognize that his constitutional duties prevent him from leaving the country for any prolonged period.

A summit meeting in the United States, he said, would be "much preferable for me" if it were to last a long time. But, he added, if the conference were to be a short one "frankly, I don't care much about where I'm working as long as it is a convenient place."

Eisenhower, in discussing a possible meeting, pledged "we will never close the door" to any opportunity to ease tensions.

House Group Votes To Delay T-H Hearings

WASHINGTON, March 5 (P)—A House labor subcommittee voted today against beginning hearings now on long-stalled proposals to revise the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

Republican members accused the Democratic majority of playing politics. Democrats disputed that.

Rep. Rhodes (R-Ariz.) told newsmen "this makes it pretty certain so far as the subcommittee is concerned that there will be no legislation this session."

Rhodes and two other subcommittee Republicans, Reps. Kearns of Pennsylvania and Griffin of Michigan, said in a statement: "We charge that the Democratic members of the subcommittee are playing politics with American labor for their own selfish interests by voting on a partisan basis against holding hearings on the President's labor proposals."

Rep. Wier (R-Minn.), a subcommittee member, replied:

"We're not playing politics. This is a most inopportune time to consider such legislation. Until the McClellan committee's hearings are concluded in the Senate and a determination is made, I would oppose opening up the subject."

Moorman Named

HONOLULU, March 5 (P)—The Air Force today announced the appointment of Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman Jr., as commander of the 13th Air Force in the Philippines.

Moorman replaces Maj. Gen. John B. Ackerman, who was relieved last week. The Air Force said Ackerman was too lavish in decorating four sets of living quarters in Luzon.

Dressmakers Strike In Nine Eastern States

NEW YORK, March 5 (P)—For the first time in 25 years, dressmakers today launched a general strike against the billion-dollar-a-year garment industry. More than 105,000 walked out in nine Eastern states.

With a new generation taking over the work benches since the last strike, many of the dressmakers never walked a picket line before. The striking International Ladies Garment Workers Union used sound trucks to brief them on the almost forgotten mechanism of a strike.

However, Julius Hochman, a strike leader here, declared: "We haven't lost our will power or our determination to organize a general strike."

Wages and contract enforcement were the chief issues in the walkout, which got under way at 10 a.m.

Most of the industry's Easter finery already had been delivered to the nation's dress shops. A prolonged walkout, however, could throw out of kilter summer and fall production schedules.

As 65,000 dressmakers—mostly women—left the lofts in New York's cluttered garment district to march on Madison Square Garden for a strike rally, Mayor Robert F. Wagner said he might cut short a Bahamas vacation.

The mayor sent word that if the strike continued beyond 48 hours, he would return and force both sides into marathon bargaining sessions. Meanwhile, Wagner promised protection for picket lines, but warned both sides against violence that characterized garment strikes of long ago.

Besides the 65,000 New York strikers, 40,000 others struck in New York State, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware and Maryland. Some 1,550 dress contractors were affected.

Stalin Death Ignored

MOSCOW, March 5 (P)—The fifth anniversary of Joseph Stalin's death passed unmarked in Moscow today. No Moscow newspaper so much as mentioned him.

Marie McDonald Alleges Husband Planned Kidnap

CINCINNATI, March 5 (P)—Actress Marie McDonald tearfully told newsmen today that her estranged husband, Harry Karl, was responsible for her kidnapping 13 months ago.

The story caught Los Angeles detectives by surprise, and Thad Brown, detective chief, put an investigator on a plane for Cincinnati to quiz her tomorrow.

Brown said, "This is the first time we have heard this story from her," and added that Miss McDonald had testified at length under oath before the Los Angeles grand jury.

Detective Lt. Herman Zander, who investigated the kidnapping and is flying here from Los Angeles, said he asked the Hamilton County prosecutor to have her tell the story under oath.

Asked by a reporter tonight if she would repeat the story under

Acted As Men 'Of Good Faith'

WASHINGTON, March 5 (P)—President Eisenhower brushed aside the legality issue today and informed a news conference that Vice President Nixon would assume all-inclusive powers, including authority to sign bills, in event of presidential disability.

Eisenhower dismissed the idea that Nixon should take an oath as acting president, should a disability emergency arise. He said he and Nixon assume that "we are men of good faith, and we are honest men that are trying to do what is correct for the country."

In the area of peace and foreign policy, the President said Russia offered to attend an East-West summit conference in this country, if Eisenhower wishes. That would be preferable, if it were a long conference, he said, because of his constitutional duties and the need of signing official papers.

And, in what has become an almost inevitable discussion of economic conditions at news conferences these days, Eisenhower said he doesn't believe that "just spending federal money is entirely the answer" to the recession.

"I believe, of course," he said, "that the upturn in our economy will be the result of millions of citizens making their purchases, having greater confidence."

No, he said, the administration doesn't have anything specific in the way of a tax-cutting bill on the shelf, ready to take off should it become necessary for fighting the recession.

After a single abrupt "no" at the start of the question and answer set-to with newsmen, Eisenhower was entirely a malleable in dealing with his own possible inability to carry on in the White House and with all other topics.

The no was in response to a question whether Nixon ever acted as president during any of his three illnesses—a 1955 heart attack, a 1956 intestinal operation, and a slight stroke last November.

It was just a week ago that the chief executive disclosed his agreement—subsequently spelled out in a formal statement, for Nixon to take over as acting president if Eisenhower were unable to perform his duties.

"We are not trying to rewrite the Constitution," Eisenhower remarked today.

As to whether any bills Nixon might sign would have the effect of law, Eisenhower replied that he did "anything that the president would be required to do at that time."

Korea Reds Will Return 26 Hostages

PANMUNJOM, Korea, March 6 (P)—Red North Korea said it would return later today 26 of the 34 persons aboard a commercial airliner that flew into North Korea Feb. 16.

The group includes 22 Americans, 2 West Germans and 22 Koreans.

The Americans are Willis P. Hobbs of Vallejo, Calif., pilot of the plane, and Lt. Col. Howard W. McClellan of Buchanan, Mich., copilot. McClellan is a U.S. Air Force officer. He was logging extra flying time and pay for the flight.

The West Germans are a businessman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Heinrichs of Bremen, Germany.

The plane took off on a regular Pusan-Seoul flight Sunday Feb. 16 but did not land at Seoul. Radar scopes tracked it across the line to a Red North Korean base.

FCC Probers Appoint New Chief Counsel

"Insinuations" In TV Case Denied By In-Law Of Ike

WASHINGTON, March 5 (P)—The House's Harris subcommittee hired a new chief counsel today and, at the same time, turned an increasingly investigatory eye on an in-law of President Eisenhower.

Robert W. Lishman, a Washington lawyer and registered lobbyist, was named as counsel to replace Bernard Schwartz, fired three weeks ago in a controversy still echoing in a probe of the Federal Communications Commission and people who may have tried to influence it.

Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of the subcommittee on legislative oversight, indicated after a closed session that Col. George Gordon Moore, Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law, will testify in connection with FCC's award of a Miami TV license.

Moore Willing To Testify

Moore expressed willingness to appear in a letter to Harris in which he denied having anything to do with the granting of the license, valued at millions of dollars, to a National Air Lines subsidiary headed by his friend G. T. Baker.

Two Democrats of the committee proposed nonetheless that the group look into Moore's relationship with a director of the TV firm, George Gibbs, a partner of Moore's in a Dominican Republic shipyard venture.

Reps. Mack (Ill.) and Williams (Miss.) made the suggestion. Mack said he felt the Moore-Gibbs relationship "has a distinct bearing on the case in Miami."

Solons Appearance Debated

Harris announced the appointment of the 54-year-old Lishman in the midst of an unresolved debate on whether the subcommittee can or should invite testimony from three senators accused by several witnesses of putting pressure on FCC.

Harris stood firm on his refusal to issue any specific invitations but said the senators are free to come before the subcommittee if they wish.

Rep. Wolpert (R-N.J.) served notice he will continue to press for specific invitations to the senators. The three senators have been denounced by G. T. Baker, National Airlines president whose firm won the bitterly contested TV license.

Senators Back Farm Surplus Disposal Plan

WASHINGTON, March 5 (P)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today approved programs under which the United States would sell, trade or give away nearly six billion dollars worth of farm surpluses in the next two years.

The blueprint for overseas disposal of surpluses was more than double the requests by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. And it ignored his recommendations for tapering off the barter of farm commodities on world markets.

President Eisenhower and Benson had recommended a one-year extension of the disposal program, together with another 1½ billion dollars of authority to sell surpluses for foreign currencies.

Instead, the Senate committee: Extended the foreign currency sales for two years beyond next June 30, making 1½ billion dollars available in each fiscal year plus another ½ billion for the period until next July 1.

Directed the secretary of agriculture to barter up to 500 million dollars worth of farm surpluses annually on a permanent basis.

Made some 410 million dollars available for outright gifts or donations of farm surpluses overseas to help alleviate disasters and emergencies during the two years.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) predicted the committee also would approve, perhaps tomorrow, legislation that would freeze farm price supports at or above last year's levels. However, Ellender said the measure probably would face a presidential veto if Congress goes along.

Churchill Has Cold

ROQUEBRUNNE — CAP-MARTIN, France, March 5 (P)—Sir Winston Churchill, who has been steadily recovering from pneumonia and pleurisy, today was reported suffering from a mild cold. People in his household insisted it was nothing serious.

Syria Charges Saud 838 Vandalism Plot To Wreck UAR, Cases Reported In Kohler Strike

DAMASCUS, March 5 (P)—Syria's intelligence chief accused Arabia's King Saud today of masterminding what he called a multimillion-dollar plot to wreck the new United Arab Republic and kill President Gamal Abdel Nasser. He said the United States knew about it.

President Nasser himself reported a bribery plot had been in the making but he did not link King Saud or his government with it.

(There was no immediate comment from Saudi, American or other sources outside the Egyptian-Syrian sphere. The Syrian accusation is the boldest made thus far in the growing battle of wordy propaganda between the Egyptian-Syrian-Yemeni union and the rival Arab camp formed by the Iraqi-Jordan federation and its potential Saudi ally.)

Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, powerful head of army intelligence, made the Syrian charge at a news conference. He had a tape recording of what he said was a talk he had with an emissary of the oil-rich King Saud.

Serraj said Saud wanted him to lead a coup, and that he was offered two million Syrian pounds—about $575,000—to arrange the assassination.

Nasser told a Damascus street crowd that "oil money"—in the form of checks drawn from Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, to the Arab Bank in Damascus—had been paid to Serraj as a bribe.

Serraj told him promptly of this, Nasser said, and added: "We will take this oil money with which they tried to bribe the Syrian army and we will erect heavy industries for our five-year plan. Thus, we will turn evil into good."

Saudi Arabia's economy is based on an American-run oil industry. Details of the alleged conspiracy were issued by Serraj.

He told the news conference the aim was to "prevent the Syrian-Arabian union—in the U.A.R.—by an army coup" under which Serraj would seize the presidency of Syria. The target date was Feb. 21, the day of a plebiscite on the union.

Serraj said he was first approached by King Saud's Syrian father-in-law, Asad Ibrahim. Another Saudi agent, he said, offered him the bribe to arrange for the assassination of Nasser.

The agent suggested that when Nasser's plane took off to return to Cairo another plane would pursue it and shoot it down, Serraj said, "and it would be claimed afterward that the attacking plane was Israeli, or American, or British."

Four Die When B&O Freight Strikes Car

CARYLYLE, Ill., March 5 (P)—Four persons, including three grade school sisters, were killed today when a westbound Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train struck a car on an unguarded crossing.

Dead were three of the 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Berry of Carylyle. They were Irene, 15, Phyllis, 14, and Flora Kay, 9.

Berry's brother-in-law, Eugene Higgins, 33, father of four children, died in a hospital at nearby Breesee an hour after the accident.

Teacher Cleared Of Charges She Used Profanity

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 5 (P)—Miss Elsie May Peters, junior high school civics teacher, was cleared today of charges of using profanity in a classroom and exchanging good grades for trading stamps.

City Schools Supt. Thomas N. Johnston ruled, however, that Miss Peters had been indiscreet in the use of words in once asking her pupils, "What jackass turned out that gas?"

Some parents of pupils had accused Miss Peters of using profanity in classrooms and swapping good grades for trading stamps. She acknowledged use of the "jackass."

As for the trading stamps, she said the school Parent-Teacher Assn. asked her to serve as a sort of clearing house for the collection of stamps as a school project.

Mitchell Sees Peak Of Recession Past

ST. LOUIS, March 5 (P)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell expressed belief today that the peak of the recession passed last month.

Mitchell, arriving for a look at the employment security system here, said he is concerned about unemployment in the nation. He added the total of the nation's unemployed probably will reach its peak at about five million when the February figures are made public next week. The March figures should show an improved economy picture, he told newsmen at the airport.

Carpenter, 80, In Tax Web, Might Lose Home

COTTAGE HILLS, Ill., March 5 (P)—At the age of 80, Alex Moore owed $2,353.28 and demanded the money.

Moore insists his only property is his equity in a four-room frame house on which he pays installments of $15 a month. He says the house might be worth $4,500 but he can't get that for it now.

He said that he had been served with papers by the Internal Revenue Service demanding the tax money and that he had been told to sell the house or they will sell it for him.

This, he says, will set him, his wife Gladys, and his daughter, Thelma, smack-dab in the street with no place to live. Both his wife and daughter, he explains, are in poor health.

Even at 80, Moore says he can still do some work "but I can't work on the roof or anything like that."

Army Loses Contact Soon After Firing

Odds Are It Didn't Go Into Orbit, Top Scientists Report

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., March 5 (P)—The Army lost its second Explorer satellite today, minutes after firing it spaceward with the Jupiter-C rocket. Odds are that it didn't go into orbit.

Scientists guessed that the satellite's radios may have failed, or it might have crashed back into the earth's atmosphere.

In either case, they don't know where it is and probably won't be able to decide the fate of the Explorer II for several days.

In Pasadena, Calif., Dr. William Pickering, head of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at the California Institute of Technology, joined Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, in this statement:

"There is every indication that the satellite fired today did not function normally and there is a great probability that it is not in orbit. No further information will be available until technical data are interpreted and reduced. This will probably take several days."

Pickering, whose laboratory staff helped build the Army's Jupiter-C, said there was only one report that a radio signal had been received from Explorer II, and that was questionable. It came from a station at Inyokern, Calif.

There was no immediate comment at the Air Force Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral.

"Bug" In Tape Recorder It was learned that the difficulty which held up the firing of the satellite 18 minutes this afternoon was attributed to a tape recorder weighing just half a pound.

The tape recorder was part of an improved cosmic ray counting system that would have made Explorer II the smartest U.S. satellite.

The 32.47-pound tube-like moon would have been able to condense its experience with cosmic rays on each trip around the world. Then in answer to a secret radio signal from the earth, it would have sent its condensed message back to U.S. scientists.

In checking out the little tape recording device in the satellite before the firing, it was found it failed to work.

It was tried several times and finally repeated its signals correctly.

Then at 1:28 p.m. EST, the Jupiter-C blasted off from its pad, rising gracefully and strong from the Cape Canaveral launching site on a tail of orange flame.

Just 33 days before, another Jupiter-C had risen in the same way to boost Explorer I, the first U.S. satellite, into orbit around the earth.

It came after the Soviet Union had established a two-satellite monopoly in space.

Today's launching seemed perfect and the radio signals from the rising four-stage Jupiter-C rocket sounded normal as they were flashed back to the Army scientists in a blockhouse at the Cape.

The Jupiter-C climbed straight into an overcast Florida sky, and was hidden by the 5,000-foot clouds just 27 seconds after it blasted off. In 90 seconds even the thunderous sound of the rocket was out of hearing range.

Below in the drift of the Jupiter-C's smoke was the Navy's Vanguard rocket, standing in its gantry and waiting for its satellite-launching attempt, expected some time this week.

The estimate of the satellite's failure to orbit came five hours after the blastoff.

Hawaii Threatened With Heavy Floods

HONOLULU, March 5 (P)—One of Hawaii's heaviest rain storms forced evacuation of many Honolulu homes today and threatened heavy flood damage.

The Red Cross opened a refugee shelter in a school on the eastern side of Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated.

Honolulu firemen helped families evacuate homes in three widely separated areas.

Lines of disabled cars, awash with water floorboard deep. Public schools were closed.

The Weather Bureau reported five inches of rain fell in the first hours of the sudden storm. Eight to 10 inches were forecast.

Flood water filled the underground garage of the Reef Hotel on Waikiki Beach with water windshield deep.

Commissioners Quizzed In Jai Alai License Probe

ANNAPOLIS, March 5 (AP)—The five Anne Arundel County commissioners who voted to license jai alai with pari-mutuel betting were called upon today to explain their votes in circuit court.

Court was recessed until Friday after a full day of testimony in two suits aimed at blocking establishment of a jai alai fronton (arena) near Ft. Meade.

Meanwhile, a bill which would outlaw jai alai throughout the state was expected to clear the General Assembly soon. But any such legislation probably will be contested in the courts.

The five commissioners who favored the licensing regulation Nov. 12 were Chairman Ralph L. Lowman, John M. Evered, Henry A. Wigley, Mrs. Paulina W. Remy and James W. Crosby. Two commissioners voted against it and one was absent.

Those favoring the license were questioned by Hyman A. Pressman, Baltimore attorney who joined as a taxpayer in suits filed for several residents of the Ft. Meade area by Attorney C. Bowie Rose.

The suits seek a court review of the commissioners' action and a permanent injunction against Auditoriums Inc., the firm which was issued a fronton license the day after the commissioners' action.

In his opening remarks Pressman charged the licensing resolution had been "planned in a secret manner and railroaded through." He said the commissioners had not examined the applicants or the proposed fronton site as required by the resolution.

Lowman testified that the jai alai license was handled in the same way as licenses for slot machines, bingo and other amusement devices. He said public hearings are never held on such applications.

UAW Sees New Ford Layoffs

DETROIT, March 5 (AP)—Ken Bannan, director of the United Auto Workers Ford department, said today he sees no immediate prospect of employment picking up at Ford or other auto companies.

"We have not had as many short work weeks in Ford as other corporations," he said. He added, however, that the union was insisting that the company schedule 40 hour weeks for top seniority workers and permit others, for whom no work was available, to collect layoff pay benefits.

Bannan estimated Ford employment nationwide at 112,000 in February. He said this was a drop of 37,000 since last August. Of the 112,000 he estimated about 30 per cent were "on short time." He said that meant they either worked less than 40 hours a week or were laid off temporarily for a full week.

Ford announced today that its assembly plant in Chester, Pa., will close down next week only and its assembly plant in Dallas, Tex., will stop production for six work days in an effort to cut down inventories.

Rock 'n' Roll Seen Delinquency Curb

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., March 5 (AP)—Mayor William Savitch considers rock 'n' roll an ally in the fight against juvenile delinquency.

Savitch said teen-agers have had less time for trouble since the craze hit town.

"They tire themselves out so completely," he said, "they must surely have had to go home afterward."

To make it easier for dance hall owners to operate, in this city of about 5,000, he cut their annual license fee from $100 to $1.

"Dress Right Week"

ANNAPOLIS, March 5 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today proclaimed the week of March 23-29 "Dress Right Week in Maryland."

He paid tribute to the "excellent taste of our citizens in dress and appearance." As he signed the proclamation, the governor wore a single breasted blue suit, striped tie, pinned-collar shirt and a neatly folded white handkerchief.

Syria Reports Jordan Attack

DAMASCUS, March 5 (AP)—Syria charged today a Jordan armored unit pushed into Syrian soil last night and shelled Syrian border guards.

A communique from army headquarters here said the Jordanians were driven off by public resistance forces of the United Arab Republic—the union of Egypt and Syria. It said the attack was made in the district of Salkhad near Syria's southern frontier and that there were no casualties.

The communique also charged Turkish patrols seized two Syrian policemen near the northern frontier Saturday as the policemen pursued fugitives in Syria. It added that a U. A. R. patrol arrested two Turkish soldiers in Syrian territory Monday.

The statement said the U. A. R. now was taking "necessary measures."

Food Prices Soar

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet food index, continued to head skyward this week, reaching their highest point in more than three years.

At $6.68 the index compared with $6.60 last week and was at its peak since a $6.69 figure in the week ended Feb. 15, 1955. The current figure is 9.7 per cent higher than the year-ago week's $6.09.

Time Slows Down In Md. Assembly

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 5 (AP)—Today was March 5 in most of Maryland. Everywhere, that is, except here at the Statehouse, where the legislature is nearing the end of a 30-day session.

It was still Saturday, March 1 in the Senate. In the House, it was Monday, March 3.

These are "legislative days," resorted to by the lawmakers because the state constitution requires enactment of the budget three days before the end of the session.

Liberace Runs Into Copyright Trouble, Ends Australia Tour

SYDNEY, Australia, March 5 (AP)—Liberace called off the rest of his Australian tour today because a music publisher exercised its copyright to keep him from playing the music to "My Fair Lady."

Police moved in to prevent trouble from an angry matinee crowd—most of them women—of about 1,000 persons after the flamboyant American pianist announced he would not perform.

The audience finally lined up to collect refunds of up to 2 pounds ($4.50) per seat. The pianist's tour had been scheduled to continue for another week.

Songs from "My Fair Lady" still have not been released outside America more than a year after the hit musical opened on Broadway, and the records are top items on the musical black market.

"Engineer" Dulles Given Model Loco

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles played for 10 minutes with a 15-inch locomotive today at the State department—and obviously enjoyed it.

It was Dulles' boyhood ambition to run the original of the model. He told a luncheon on his 70th birthday Feb. 25 that when he was 10 years old his ambition was not to be secretary of state but to drive engine No. 999 of the New York Central Railroad.

New York Central vice president, L. W. Horning, presented "engineer extraordinary" Dulles the model of the locomotive, the coal tender and a picture of the original.

Dulles said at the luncheon that No. 999 achieved an unprecedented speed of 60 m.p.h. in 1893, when he was 10. The inscription on the picture politely reminded him that the famed locomotive could do far better than that and had reached a speed of 112½ m.p.h. in 1893.

Gaillard Stakes Life Of Regime On Vote

PARIS, March 5 (AP)—Premier Felix Gaillard asked the National Assembly today to vote funds to send 28,000 more soldiers to Algeria and build a barrier along the Tunisian-Algerian frontier. He staked the life of his government on the result.

The Premier's message covered a number of less specific items, including a request for more than nine million dollars to move troops "toward the Sahara," a new source of oil.

The package Gaillard sought would add 228 million dollars to defense estimates already debated for several days. But he indicated other defense items could be trimmed.

Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin has threatened to resign if France's budget deficit is increased.

Skate Crosses Atlantic Underwater, Sets Record

PORTLAND, England, March 5 (AP)—The new American nuclear submarine Skate surfaced in Portland Harbor today with a record for an underwater eastward crossing of the Atlantic.

The sleek, lead-colored craft did it in 8 days, 11 hours, on a shake-down cruise in which, the skipper said absolutely nothing went wrong.

The nine officers and 86 men of the Skate, the U.S. Navy's third and most streamlined sub, celebrated tonight.

Officers toasted the feat with a round of drinks with British hosts aboard the British submarine Orega, and the Skate's sailors jubilantly took shore leave.

The Skate surfaced for the first of the two submarines.

Just Supposin' Educator Puts Science On Plane With Football

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—What would it be like if extracurricular activities in science were financed on a comparable level with football?

John H. Fisher, superintendent of instruction for Baltimore City's schools, let his mind wander over the hypothetical question in an open letter to teachers in the department's Staff Newsletter.

The letter said in part:

"Suppose all over America we were to begin dealing with intellectual affairs as we customarily deal with sports. Think of the possibilities!

"Colleges would compete for national scholastic recognition with the enthusiasm they now devote to winning bowl game invitations.

"Alumni would insist that their colleges employ the most distinguished professors as they now demand only the best coaches.

"All-America research teams in the physical and biological sciences would annually be chosen and widely publicized.

"Newspapers would devote two to four pages every day and a whole section on Sunday to news and comment about academic and scientific events. They would offer trophies for intellectual distinction as they now do for athletic championships.

"High schools would award for outstanding scholarship the same bold black letter that is traditionally presented to members of varsity teams.

"To stimulate the grade school market, cereal manufacturers would print pictures of historians, scientists and poets on their boxes and youngsters would view each other in the size of their picture collections.

"And occasionally, we might expect that a physicist returning from a conference where he had read an outstanding paper would be welcomed at the airport by a thousand cheering fans.

"Obviously, one goes far beyond present reality to envision so drastic a change in the way we do things. Many of us might not even like a country that became as excited over a Nobel Prize winner as it does over a World Series victor. Still, it is permissible to toy with the idea and it might be interesting to see what would happen in the first Baltimore school that deliberately set out to equalize the public recognition it bestows on its athletes and its scholars."

Hampshire Hog, Pa. Entry, Wins Honors At Show

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—A purebred 200-pound Hampshire hog owned by John Strawbridge of Stewartstown, Pa., was judged grand champion barrow at the 11th annual Eastern National Spring Market Hog Show today.

Strawbridge's entry won out over 107 entries in the three-day show which ended today with the auctioning of all swine entered.

Runner-up was a 220-pound Duroc entered by William Miller of Big Spring, Md. It was awarded the reserve champion ribbon.

Three Berkshires entered by Gorman Martin, Hampstead, Md., was judged grand champion pen. Reserve honors went to a trio of Berkshires belonging to C. R. Galbreath and Sons, Street, Md.

ILGWU Pickets Rough Up Cops At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, March 5 (AP)—Police and pickets at the strike-bound L'Aiglon dress-making firm skirmished briefly today when a truck approached the plant's driveway to enter.

A man who identified himself as S. Sadaras Constand, 26, of New York City, and a union organizer was arrested on charges of assault on a police officer and disorderly conduct.

Police Chief Blair Overton said he had a general agreement with Shirley Adkins, local representative of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, that certain persons would be permitted to come and go through picket lines and trucks would be permitted to make deliveries.

About noon, he said, pickets moved toward a truck starting to enter the L'Aiglon plant, where about 450 employees walked out today in support of a general strike against dress-making firms.

In the brief skirmish, Overton said, Police Sgt. Louis Blenard was roughed up and his cap knocked off.

Union officials said the strike was 100 per cent effective at L'Aiglon and at the Ross Garment Co., where about 50 persons are employed.

A hearing for Constand is scheduled for tomorrow.

Mahoney Says Housing Plan No Slump Remedy

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—George P. Mahoney said today the Republican housing program as a remedy for the business recession is a "hoax."

The Democratic senate candidate said the program would be helpful in renewing downtown business areas over a number of years. But he declared it would do little to give business an immediate stimulus.

"During the House Banking and Currency Committee hearings in January, witness after witness stated it took two to three years to get an urban renewal project into actual construction," said Mahoney. "The administration program, spreading a sum of $1,350,000,000 (B) over a period of six years, will be of no immediate effect in taking some of our 5 million jobless off the unemployment rolls."

Earlier the Baltimore County building contractor suggested the federal spending pump be primed to support a home building program for people with relatively low incomes. He said this would take 2 million workers out of the unemployment ranks.

Mines Bureau Site Shift Bill Advanced

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The House Interior Committee today approved a bill to authorize the Bureau of Mines to relocate its laboratories now located on the University of Maryland campus.

The bill by Rep. Lankford (D-Md.) would require the university to pay the government $1,045,000 for the federal buildings now on the site.

The land, originally donated by the State of Maryland to the federal government, would be retransferred to the university without charge.

The bill would authorize the Bureau of Mines to purchase a new site and erect new buildings at a cost of not more than $2,245,000. The transfer would not take place until the new site is ready. The committee was told that three sites are being considered, but the locations were not made public.

Symphony Appeal

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra said today it would make a statewide appeal for more public support.

Plans for a stepped up fund-raising drive later this year are being formulated to replace $50,000 dropped from the state budget for this purpose.

Teeners Who Robbed Cabbie Sentenced

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—Two teen-agers who admitted robbing a cab driver of $17 at pistol-point were sentenced to 10 years each in the State Reformatory.

Joseph Paul Messina, 17, of Pasadena, told Youth Court Judge Michael J. Manley that last Feb. 15 they hailed a cab and had the driver take them to suburban Brooklyn. There, they said, they robbed him.

Messino was given an extra year because he had violated his probation on an earlier forgery charge.

Youth Helps, Then Assaults Woman

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—Police were searching today for a teen-aged boy who first helped a woman, then assaulted her.

Mrs. Dorothy Claire Orfuss said she was trying to get her car out of a tight parking place last night. A youth about 18 in a late model car drove up and offered to help.

She accepted and he maneuvered the woman's car out. Then the youth pulled a scarf from around his neck and looped it around Mrs. Orfuss, she told police.

She said she lost consciousness. The youth apparently was frightened off by passersby. Mrs. Orfuss was not otherwise molested or robbed.

Funds Provided For Projects At State College

Frostburg State Teachers College did not fare too badly under slashing of Gov. McKeldin's capital improvements program by General Assembly finance committees Tuesday.

The action of the House and Senate committees was to be acted upon by the House for acceptance or rejection early today.

The college was allowed $130,000 for land acquisition, $23,500 for equipping the laboratory school and $14,000 for installation of toilets and showers.

At the same time, $125,000 was cut from the budget requests for site improvements of the south campus area and dining hall vicinity.

R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, pointed out the $130,000 allowed by the committees will go for the purchase and removal of residences which the campus surrounds on Park Avenue.

The showers and toilets will be installed in the two new dormitories, he added.

Hardesty noted that at the hearings before the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means committees the State Department of Education indicated the site improvement fund could wait for another year, if it were necessary.

The State Department of Public Improvements is considering the bids submitted on projects for which funds were allocated last year and the previous year by the General Assembly.

That includes $610,000 for a new laboratory school, $350,000 for a new dining hall and $72,000 for dining hall equipment.

Bids were opened on these projects two weeks ago. Earlier bids had been turned down by the state department.

Two Sentenced For Forgery In Romney Court

Glenn E. Shillingburg, 34, and Mrs. Velda Hockman, 38, Alexandria, Va., former residents of Romney, W. Va., who were charged with a fraudulent car-selling scheme, were sentenced yesterday to two to 10 years in prison.

Shillingburg, a former automobile salesman, pleaded guilty to two indictments of forgery, and his former secretary pleaded guilty to forgery of a promissory note. The couple was sentenced by Judge Harlan M. Calhoun, Moorefield, of the 23d Judicial District.

Mrs. Hockman will serve her term at West Virginia State Prison for Women at Pence Springs, and Shillingburg will be sent today to West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville.

Police said the scheme involved selling an estimated 40 to 50 automobiles twice over a period of a year. Several of the cars were financed by a Cumberland bank.

The grand jury Tuesday in Romney indicted Shillingburg, president and major stockholder of the Bruce Motor Company of Romney, on nine counts of felony, including forgery and obtaining money under false pretense.

Mrs. Hockman, who served as Shillingburg's bookkeeper and secretary, was indicted on three counts of forgery and uttering a note.

Trooper John C. Ramsburg arrested the pair on fugitive warrants from Romney and they waived extradition in Alexandria and were returned to Romney.

Sgt. W. Frank Bowley of the Romney detachment had investigated the case the past six months before the warrants were obtained.

Police said the dual sales netted the pair the full price of each car. The offenses took place while Shillingburg and Mrs. Hockman were employed by the auto firm in Romney from September 1956 to July 1957, Ramsburg said.

According to police, the scheme worked as follows: After legally selling a new car, the pair held on to the original title for several days and then petitioned the West Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles for a duplicate, which they gave to a Romney bank that was financing the sale.

Leaving the state, they then took the original title to a Cumberland bank where they financed the sale again under a fictitious purchaser's name. This time they pocketed the money, police said.

BSP Is Entertained By Omicron

Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi entertained with a party for all chapters in the city Tuesday evening at First Federal Savings and Loan Association. Each guest received a pin up flower arranged as a nosegay.

The first part of the entertainment consisted of a hat show, with hats from Rosenbaum's. Models were Mrs. Eva Sliviak, Miss Patricia Golden, Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. Betty Taylor, Mrs. Martha VanHorn, Mrs. Ruby White, Mrs. Kitty Koon and Mrs. Virginia Newnam. Miss Helen Mae Greiling was commentator.

Another part of the entertainment, under the chairmanship of Miss Dolores Chase, was vocal selections by Miss Barbara Lipold; a novelty number by Margaret Swain and Billie Snider; and a boy's vocal ensemble, under the direction of Harold Hanson, member of the faculty of Fort Hill High School. Members of the ensemble are James White, John Appel, Paul Alkire, Charles Robinson, Joseph Smith and James Bowman.

After that games were played, including "cootie" and a letter game unscrambling words dealing with springtime. Prizes were won by Mrs. Josephine Pfeiffer, Miss Kreiling, Mrs. Martha VanHorn, Mrs. Kathleen Helker, Mrs. Sara Rank, Mrs. Ruth Wood, Miss Patricia Emerick and Mrs. Luck. The games and prize committee was headed by Mrs. Laverne Hankins, with Mrs. Elsa Barb, Miss Golden, and Miss Ellen Newnam assisting. The award for the evening was a gift certificate from Rosenbaum's hat department. It was won by Mrs. Eleanor DeVore.

Refreshments were served buffet style, with the spring theme carried out in pastel pink, green, blue and yellow in the table appointments. The large centerpiece picked up the same colors. Mrs. Virginia Newnam and Mrs. Sliviak presided at the punch bowl. Members of the refreshment committee were Miss LeAnn Matthews, chairman; Miss Patricia Emerick, Mrs. Koon, Mrs. Emma Brugh, Miss Ruth Barry and Miss Shirley Sandbury.

There were 67 guests from Exemplar, Alpha Alpha and Lambda chapters attending. Hostesses from Omicron chapter were Miss Chase, president of the chapter; Mrs. Alpha Barb, Mrs. Charlotte Northcraft, Mrs. Maxine Luck, Mrs. Helen Arthur, Mrs. Sara APPOINTED TO DMA FACULTY — Mary Kathryn Steckman, local Dance Master, has been appointed to the faculty of the Dance Masters of America. Her first assignment is to teach the Dance Masters of Chapter 17, at their one-day session, to be held in York, Pa., March 23. When a child, Miss Steckman studied with Miss Lydia Cole Millman. She received her teacher's certificate from the Ned Wayburn School of Dancing in New York City, and furthered her studies with leading authorities of the dance. Miss Steckman's local pupils will appear March 12 for the B and O Women's CTP; and April 21 for the CD of A. Among her pupils were Virginia Lee VanSant, a former June Taylor dancer; Mary Frances Kennell, professionally known as Leslie Carroll; Mary Louise Sheffler, who is a teacher for the Helen Nicholson School of Dancing, Washington; and Faith Garrett, currently appearing in New York.

Twiggtown Club To Meet Saturday

The Twiggtown Homemakers Club will meet at 1:30 Saturday instead of in the evening. The meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Austin Twigg with Mrs. Ethel Stonestree co-hostess.

Miss Mary Wise will be guest speaker and talk on "Storage in the Home." A white elephant sale will follow the meeting.

A fried chicken dinner will be served at the Bowman's Addition fire hall by the auxiliary from 4:30 until 7:30 tonight.

Mullaney and Mrs. Dessie Shantholzer.

Omicron Chapter will hold its business meeting March 18 at the home of Mrs. Helen Arthur, after a tour of Hafer House, at 7:15.

West Side Teen Club Organized

A contest to name the teen-age club being sponsored each Monday evening by the Women of the Moose, Chapter 914, featured the meeting this week.

Three teen-agers submitted the winning name. They were John Stullwagon, William Hook and Pat Dryer. The name selected was "West Side Teen Club."

It was decided to drop the registration fee to 25 cents. Mrs. Marjorie Mulligan, senior regent, who is in charge of the project, which opened last week, announced that all teen-agers must pay this fee before being admitted at the meeting March 10. At that time officers will be nominated. Election is to be held at the meeting March 17.

There were 80 teen-agers at the meeting Monday evening. Sixty-one attended the first week.

Chapter 914 Gives To Music Fund

An invitation was received and a donation was made by the Women of the Moose, Chapter 914, at the meeting held recently at the Moose home. Mrs. Marjorie Mulligan, senior regent, presided.

The donation was made to the "Mooseheart Music Fund." An invitation was accepted for "Music Day" to be held March 9 at Brunswick, with that chapter hostess.

Following the brief business session, officers and members attended the meeting of Frostburg Chapter, 22, at which time all College of Regents members were honored.

Survival May Depend On High School Scientists, Talented Teacher Says

By DICK SINNOTT

NEWTON, Mass., March 5 (AP)—The Newton High School teacher whose students placed first and second in the United States in a national science talent search today told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview "Our very survival may depend on our high school scientists."

Dr. Albert Navez, 59, a native of Brussels, Belgium, is one of 16 science teachers in this suburban Boston high school, ranked by educators among the top secondary schools in the country.

Two students of Dr. Navez—Reinier Beeuwkes III, 17, and Dushan Mitrovich, 18—won the top awards in the Westinghouse talent search bestowed Monday night in Washington. They topped a field of more than 25,000 competitors.

Beeuwkes was awarded a $7,500 scholarship for building an atom smashing machine for less than $150. Dushan won second prize—a $6,000 scholarship—for a flyable space platform.

Dr. Navez, who heads the school's science department, was credited by Beeuwkes and Mitrovich with contributing importantly to their awards.

Newton High School has an enrollment of 3,000 students and each student, whether he be in a business course or college preparatory course, must take one of the physical sciences before qualifying for a diploma.

"Doc" Navez, as he is called by his admiring pupils, beamed with delight as he discussed the Westinghouse awards.

"I'm elated," he said. "The youngsters have reflected credit on themselves, their families and their school. The fact that they have won appears to prove what I have believed right along that students must be stimulated and encouraged to go ahead in science, not just by their teachers, but by their families as well."

Although the fathers of both boys are scientists, Dr. Navez does not believe a youngster has to have a scientific heredity or environment to succeed in science. Nor does Dr. Navez believe a scientific emergency program is the answer to the United States' crying need for more scientists.

"Our very survival," he said, "may depend on our high school scientists. This is what I would suggest."

"Give youngsters the incentive to want to succeed in science."

"Let them go ahead on their own in scientific projects. Students seem to work even harder without supervision when they are genuinely interested in science. Give them plenty of rope—they won't hang themselves."

"Teachers shouldn't just follow a text book or laboratory course. They should go beyond the texts and laboratory. It is up to the teacher to make the subject exciting."

"The will to succeed in science should be noted and then developed early in life. A kid who wants to be a scientist no longer is considered an 'egg head' or 'odd ball.' Today science is a dramatic, even romantic study. Just this feeling of prestige is partial reward for the recognition many say we owe our scientists."

Dr. Navez came to this country in 1926. Prior to joining the Newton faculty nine years ago he was on the faculties of Milton Academy and Harvard University. He is married and the father of a son, 24, who is a graduate student at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University.

Dr. Navez has one more bit of advice for parents and science teachers: "Don't forget we are dealing with youngsters. You have to condition yourself to live with them, teach them and humor them."

He adds with a smile: "someday they may make you look good."

Atlantic Fleet Plans Amphibious Exercise

NORFOLK, Va., March 5 (AP)—A huge amphibious exercise for the Atlantic Fleet, employing 40,000 sailors and marines, will be held March 13-31.

This announcement from the commander in chief of the fleet, Adm. Jerauld Wright, said 60 ships and 260 Navy and Marine aircraft will participate. The simulated use of atomic weapons will be included.

The exercise, first such since 1955, will cover sea and shore areas between Norfolk and Vieques Island, Puerto Rico.

Vice Adm. B. Hall Hanlon will conduct the exercise.

Lt. Gen. E. A. Pollock of the Marines will command units of the Second Marine Division and the Second Marine Aircraft Wing which will make up the second marine air-ground task force.

Sen. Butler Offers Bill To Spur Capital Investment

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Small businesses making certain investments could get a 20 per cent tax credit during the year started March 1 under a bill offered yesterday by Sen. Butler (R-Md.).

Butler said the bill would provide an incentive for capital investment, "thus contributing materially to expansion of the economy without the government footing the bill."

The bill would relate to investments "by reason of which the taxpayer acquires ownership, or increases his ownership, of voting stock of a corporation which is a small business enterprise or acquires a proprietary interest in an unincorporated business which is a small business enterprise."

The tax credit would be allowed, however, only if the amount of such investment is used to acquire:

1. Capital assets to be used in trade or business.

2. Real property to be used in trade or business, or
3. Property of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation.

Porter Freed From Jail As Wife Wins Divorce

Clarence T. Porter, 55, formerly of Eckhart, gained his freedom from the Allegany County Jail, and his wife, Mrs. Viola Porter, of Washington, obtained an absolute divorce yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court as their differences apparently were settled.

Porter, who has been lodged in the County Jail for 20½ months on a contempt of court charge, reached an agreement with his divorced wife enabling him to regain his freedom by purging himself of contempt.

He had been jailed for the longest period on record in County Jail for failing to pay his wife $4,217 as her share of government savings bonds obtained from funds obtained by the sale of two properties which they owned jointly. Chief Judge George Henderson had ordered him jailed.

Under the agreement reached yesterday, Porter will give up his share of the ownership to a camp on Town Creek and she will waive any present or future claims against him. The camp is worth about $2,500.

Yesterday, Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley of Oakland heard the evidence in Mrs. Porter's suit for an absolute divorce. The contempt charge had arisen from a partial divorce which Mrs. Porter had received in 1955.

Judge Fraley signed the decree yesterday afternoon giving Mrs. Porter an absolute divorce from her long-jailed husband. Soon afterwards he was released from the custody of Sheriff Edward R. Muir, leaving the jail about 1 p. m. He had been confined there since June 20, 1956. Yesterday was Edward J. Ryan, local attorney, who has known the Porters for many years.

William A. Gunter is attorney for Mrs. Porter and Howard A. Vogel, Washington, is counsel for the husband. Acting as intermediary today was Edward J. Ryan, local attorney, who has known the Porters for many years.

Meanwhile, Attorney Vogel made a motion before Judge Henderson asking that Porter be purged of the contempt of court charge.

Vogel, in Tuesday's hearing, informed the court that Porter had given him a letter asking him to withdraw from the case, but Vogel told the court he has been interested in the problem and wished to continue as "a friend of the court." Judge Henderson granted his request and complimented Vogel for his patience in the long and involved legal maneuvers.

Postal Local Seeks Pay Hike

Members of Cumberland Local 513, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, has sent letters to U. S. Senators J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler and Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde asking their support for the postal clerk pay raise legislation in Congress.

The local stated that postal workers receive raises only by action of Congress and signing into law of measures passed by the President. They further stated that they have received only one small pay increase since 1951 and some of the postal workers obtained only a $10 per year raise at that time.

They also cite that two postal pay raise bills have been vetoed by President Eisenhower in recent years. The local contends that an increase from a three to a four-cent postage stamp would raise enough money to make an adequate pay increase for postal workers.

It was also pointed out postal workers must work 25 years before reaching top salary in their grade. They also ask for pay increases for the welfare of postal workers and to keep their pay in line with the inflated living costs which have occurred since 1951.

Deadline Tomorrow On SS Ballot

A deadline has been set on Friday for the straw votes being cast by members of the City Police and Fire departments for or against their inclusion in the Social Security program.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday the straw vote will be counted by himself, City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery and Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, together with representatives of the two departments.

After the vote is tallied, the Mayor and Council will set the date for the final balloting which will be 90 days later.

Woman Killed By Train In Pennsylvania

A Western Maryland Railway train en route to Bowest struck and killed an 85-year-old woman at Shaffer's Crossroads in Fayette County, Pa., Tuesday.

She was Mrs. Katherine Kochera of Hutchinson. Railroad spokesmen for the Western Division here said Mrs. Kochera apparently took a short cut across the tracks about 25 lengths from a crossing when she was hit.

The train of 111 loaded coal cars was en-route from the Fairmont section to Bowest over lines of the FM&P Subdivision of the B&O Railroad.

R. R. Cole of Connellsville was conductor and R. G. Welsh also of that city, was engineer.

Local Garment Union Not On Strike

The walkout of garment plant workers in New York and a number of other states does not affect the operation of the Cumberland Undergarment Company plant here.

The workers in the local plant come under a different section of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union and no contract negotiations are under way concerning them.

Meanwhile, four other plants in Maryland and Delaware face walkouts by more than 1,000 workers. Two factories in Hagerstown were affected with 500 workers leaving their jobs yesterday, and 350 in Baltimore plants are also involved.

Mrs. Angela Bambace, vice president of the ILGWU, said 150 workers at Harrington, Del., were also prepared to walk off their jobs. Many of these workers live in nearby Maryland communities. Mrs. Bambace has attended a number of meetings of the ILGWU local in Cumberland.

Three Men Join Staff At Amcelle

Two engineers and an accountant have joined the staff of the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, according to Hudson Nix, personnel manager.

They are George S. Nash Jr., a development engineer in the cellulose compounds technical section; Addison K. Phifer, a development engineer in the extrusion technical section, and Judson S. Collins Jr., an accountant trainee.

Nash is formerly from Elkton, Va., where he was employed by Merck and Company. He attended public schools in Washington and was graduated from the University of Maryland with a B.S. degree in chemical engineering.

He served a year in the Navy. He is active in church and scouting affairs and is interested in flying, having been treasurer of the Valley Airmen Club in Elkton. He was also a member of the Elkton Lions' Club. Nash and his wife and son are residing at 905 National Highway, LaVale.

Collins received a B.S. degree in accounting from Pennsylvania State University, where he was a member of the Accounting Club. He served three years in the Air Force prior to entering college. From Susquehanna, Pa., Collins is married and the father of two children. Until his family moves to Cumberland, he is temporarily residing at 126 South Allegany Street.

Phifer is a graduate of North Carolina State College where he holds both the bachelor's and master's degrees in chemical engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Theta Tau fraternities, and is interested in sports, and stamp and coin collecting. Prior to serving two years in the Army, he was employed by Monsanto Chemical Company, Norfolk, Va. He and his wife and son are residing at 909 Bedford Street.

Polar bears are found only in the North pole region.

State Park Improvement Program Severely Cut By Legislators

The long-suffering state park program was given a severe setback Tuesday when the General Assembly finance committee cut the State Department of Forests and Parks capital improvement program requests from $872,000 to $275,000.

And only $10,000 was allowed for work in Western Maryland despite the fact that one project would have been self-sustaining.

The capital improvements program is financed by bond issues which are paid off in 15 to 20 years. The cuts have no effect on the tax rate for the operating budget, but may have some bearing on future property taxes used to retire bonds.

William Paar, former district forester here who is superintendent of state parks said yesterday in Annapolis the department had asked for a total of $58,000 for park work in Garrett County. The $10,000 not removed from the program will go to an access road to the beach at Deep Creek Lake Park, he explained.

Disallowed was $36,000 for four additional cabins at Herrington Manor and $12,000 for a bathhouse at New Germany.

The road to the lake beach will be finished about July 1 for picnickers and bathers, Paar revealed.

He added there is sufficient money on hand for a bathhouse at the lake, and this will be started around April 1 as materials are on hand.

But William H. Johnson, district forester for Western Maryland said the action by the legislative committees, will hold up camping at the new park as there will be no sanitary facilities for campers.

There is a comfort station completed for picnickers, but this is not adequate for campers, he added. There is money available for water lines, which will be laid this year.

In regard to the Herrington Manor request, H. C. Buckingham, state forester, said the four cabins costing $9,000 each would have been self-sustaining in several years. Each year more requests for cabins at Herrington Manor have to be turned down, he added. The Department studies, Buckingham observed, have shown the average camper spends from $5 to $7 a day. In a season's time, this will be deprived of use of state facilities each summer. He also noted the income that section.

Well Baby Clinic Set At Corriganville

The Corriganville lay health group will assist with the well baby clinic at the Corriganville Fire Hall, Thursday, March 13, at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Paul Poorbaugh, chairman, said the date of the clinics has been changed to the second Thursday of each month. The group organized at a meeting in Corriganville School.

The IGY And The Uncooperative Reds

Launching of earth satellites was originally planned to coincide with the International Geophysical Year. U. S. satellites were well under way in 1955 but were deliberately held back in favor of launchings during the Geophysical Year now under way.

The Geophysical Year is intended as a period of intensively coordinated international research for the advancement of mankind.

When the first Explorer was launched, four months behind the Russian sputniks, the code used was made available immediately to the public for whatever good it might do students of space. The Russians had not similarly made their sputnik codes available.

But when the Explorer took wing, Moscow speedily announced that preliminary information about the sputniks was to be released. This is decidedly in the Communist pattern. Take everything and give nothing—unless it is clearly to your advantage to give.

If space exploration is to be used for peaceful purposes, as it should be, the Russians would have been proud to cooperate fully in the accumulation of common knowledge. The fact that they did not until forced to do so by fear of world opinion proves their selfish purposes.

Man has taken only a few faltering steps toward getting acquainted with infinite space. The quicker fear is eliminated from that enterprise, and the potentialities for good to all injected, the better.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Who Makes Decisions?

Orderly government is the product of long trial and error, resulting in a system which is understood by those who work with it and is generally accepted. Our system is outlined in the Constitution, is implemented by acts of Congress and the decisions of the courts, particularly the Supreme Court.

It is an interesting system because it permits the greatest degree of human liberty by deliberately sacrificing the power of the government to rule by fiat, which has usually been the method of rulers. Instead, the Constitution established a system of checks and balances so that absolute power is lodged nowhere and in no person. That such a system should have survived so long is remarkable, because the looseness of authority makes for waste and inefficiency. It also gives ample opportunity for political racketeers to abuse the opportunities that are open to them.

Only in time of war have Americans consented to the application of extraordinary powers by the President. Unfortunately World War II never quite ended. It has continued into what is for convenience called the "Cold War," a political extension of a war of balance and attrition. This "Cold War," in its current phase, is marked by a contest in the production of new weapons which are themselves novel applications of newly-revealed scientific principles.

There are those who continue to comfort themselves with tales of Russian thefts of American secret formulae, a comfort which true or untrue is now of no political significance. The fact is that Soviet Russia, if not absolutely equal to us in this field, is not far behind. Should it be proved, as it well might be, that Russian submarines off the coast of Florida caused American sputniks to fail, it can only be that they already have a device of defense against rockets and missiles, and therefore are ahead of us.

If the Russians get far ahead of us in this field, it will be argued that we must change our system of government, as some now want us to change our system of education to meet the enemy. In a word, there will be those who will attribute our failure, should we fail, to a loose system of government in which individual liberty is regarded as more valuable than governmental efficiency. Already in the time of Franklin D. Roosevelt, because of depression and war, there were those who set the Presidency apart as a sacerdotal office, with the President as a sort of man-god, a deus ex machina that could solve all problems with perfection of wisdom.

Harry Truman was too human for such a conception and it looked as though it might disappear with him, but it returned with Eisenhower, the very Republicans who had criticized Roosevelt as an absolutist, seeking such perfections in Eisenhower. However, no matter how popular the President remained, he could not transfer such popularity to Sherman Adams and Jim Hagerty who look and act very human, indeed, and often exceed constitutional authority.

In the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee's hearings, the testimony in which I am now engaged in reading, time after time, the question of authority arises. General Twining's outburst in his debate with Senator Symington is most interesting, because therein lies both a criticism and an objective view of our problem.

The issue is a clear one. Congress votes the appropriations. It needs to know what it is voting for. It needs to know whether there is an honest administration of funds voted; whether enough or too much money is voted and what is accomplished thereby. That is constitutionally the function of Congress. To this challenge of this function, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Nathan Twining, replied:

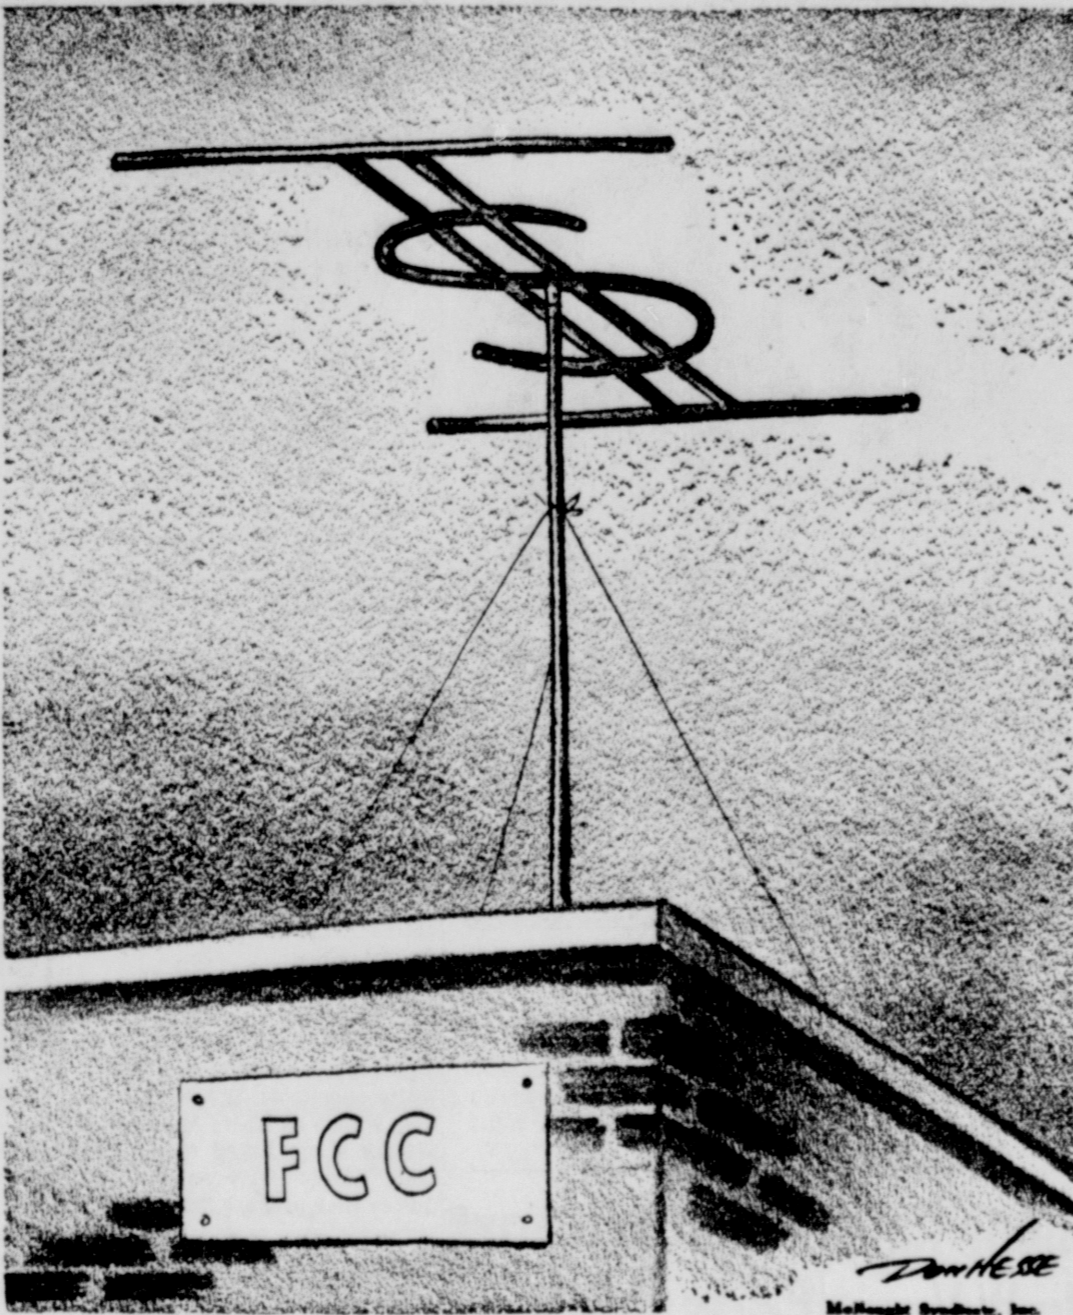

"... I will give you all the information you want, and the witnesses will give you all the information you want, but you should not bring them back and say, 'Is this adequate?' after the decision has been made."

"In the military terminology, a commander makes a decision and if everybody starts bucking it, it is just no good, you have no military."

But who made the decision in question? Was it the military, the scientists, the experts or the politicians? Was it the Bureau of the Budget which has no decision-making authority under the Constitution? Who ultimately decides such questions? Under our system of government, when it is orderly, Congress decides.

Bound To Affect The Picture

As The West Bumbles Toward The Summit

LONDON.

By Joseph Alsop

Judging by surface signs the present state of Western preparations for the famous summit meeting would really be wonderfully funny if it were not so frightening. And this judgment will hardly be altered by any public East-West pre-summit wrangle about the summit agenda.

In the offing, is the kind of encounter between the leaders of the two great world blocs that can easily turn into a major disaster, as the last summit meeting very amply proved. Every one agrees that the meeting has to be held, although no one says exactly why. And this is really the sole point of agreement one can discover here in London.

The British government has named an array of experts to consider and recommend approaches to the various subjects that may turn up on a summit agenda. The consensus of the experts was plaintively summed up to this reporter in a somewhat plaintive remark about these selected wise men.

"Every single one of them is strongly convinced that his particular subject is the one subject that ought not even to be mentioned at the summit."

The British government's political leaders are sure, on the other hand, that there is at least one subject that has to be discussed with the Soviets—the subject of nuclear disarmament. This is unavoidable because this country is increasingly gripped by a blind, instinctive, overwhelming longing for any kind of escape whatever from the nuclear nightmare in which the whole world now lives. The instinct, God knows, is sound. But the response to it hereabouts more and more resembles a prisoner in solitary confinement beating his head on the door of his cell.

In these circumstances, no British leader can take the obviously sensible line that there is no use talking about disarmament until the Soviet chieftains show some signs of willingness to accept serious disarmament controls. For public consumption at least, the line has to be taken that disarmament negotiations ought to be renewed at all costs.

But even on disarmament no very clear and decided line of policy is discoverable. The Defense Ministries tend to look with profound disfavor upon the lengthening list of schemes for local disarmament and "disengagement" in Central Europe. But the Foreign Office, remembering Sir Anthony Eden's previous position on this point, is inclined to the view that the so-called Rapacki Plan proposed by the Poles has reached the stage where it must at least be talked about.

Again, the British are vastly more enthusiastic about a cut off of nuclear tests this year than they were last year. After all, their own nuclear program is now so advanced that they will become approximately full members of the nuclear club before any cut-off of tests can take effect.

But the British decision to make an H-bomb was the real source of the French decision not to be excluded from the nuclear club. Any attempt to slam the club door in the face of France, with Britain safely inside, will obviously provoke an unholy inter-allied row. In the British government today, therefore, one can discern a highly-ironical inner conflict. Virtuous fear of the inevitable row with the French is battling with powerful temptation to end tests and close the nuclear club. The Soviets would close the club with shouts of joy. And this would be a summit meeting result to please the British public who would not be displeased by the inevitable tantrums in Paris.

Just to make matters considerably worse, the Tory Party is in fairly desperate straits after the Rochdale election; and Prime Minister Harold MacMillan has

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

There can be too much cooperation as the little man said when the big man helped him to look for his lost four-bits.

If the big man hadn't helped him to look for it he might have found it.

You move sidewalk superintendency, knothole monitorism and backseat emeritus indoors and you have weather-proof interference.

You aren't being helped through a dental operation by having another guy in your lap.

So we would say that co-operation ceases where assistance begins.

On the other hand why let it know what your right hand is doing?

And it's too often the coat-holders wind up with the vest and pants.

Cooperation is a beautiful theory in abstract but it doesn't pour concrete. The glove is overloaded when the thumb is Jacob's and the fingers are Esau's.

White House Advisers Disagree About Remedies For Depression

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Disagreement continues among Eisenhower economic advisers regarding the best way to end the "depression" a word which Ike used for the first time last week.

One group believes a tax cut and wage controls will be the trick. Ike himself sides with these advisers. He inclines toward the Herbert Hoover theory, twice expressed in the past two weeks, that there is nothing much wrong with the economy which a little public confidence won't cure. A chins-up fireside chat may attempt to restore that confidence.

Other advisers are more worried, believe it will take some real pump-priming, a further drastic cut in the Federal Reserve requirements, and a sizable boost of consumer buying power before there is a business pick-up. They favor a real reclamation program for the west and a speed-up in the slow-moving federal highway program, plus a much bolder easing of credit.

What worries them is the fact that consumers have bought so heavily on the installment plan that buying power is at a low ebb. Auto production is at a discouraging low. Until buying power is restored, White House advisers warn there will be no pick-up in business.

Navy Scientists Sacrifice

There's been a lot written about the tragic setbacks of the Navy's satellite Vanguard, but little about the heroic efforts of Navy scientists to overcome those setbacks. One interesting feature is that budget officers, anxious to keep down overtime pay, gave rigid instructions that scientists should work no more than eight hours a day, 40 hours a week.

These orders have been completely, though secretly, ignored. The secrecy results from the fact that Navy scientists don't want to get into a wrangle with budget officers. They simply work overtime, but don't collect for it. The Budget Bureau frowns on overtime for fear government employees will come along later and try to collect for it. So the scientists have kept their overtime to themselves.

This throws significant light on the money-ahead-of-space-conquest attitude of budget officers. They don't seem interested in the fact that the United States has lost great world prestige as a result of getting behind Russia in the sputnik race. What they are interested in is dollars.

Ike On Benson

Republican Congressman A. L. (Doc) Miller and Phil Weaver of Nebraska knew the odds were against them when they walked into President Eisenhower's office the other day to sound out Ike on whether he would oust his bloody-but-unbowed Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

When they walked back out, the odds hadn't changed. They were still about 100 to 1 against Benson's resigning, at least by Presidential request.

The two Nebraska Congressmen didn't immediately lay their cards on the table. Instead, they talked about "economic unrest" among midwest farmers, which they contended, was bound to get worse if Benson's order lowering dairy support prices was allowed to go into effect on April 1.

Gradually Miller worked around to the main business.

"There are other considerations of a political nature, Mr. President," he said. "I don't want you to think that we are selfish or that that Republican Congressmen from our part of the country are motivated solely by their own political futures. But our party is in real trouble in farm areas. Every poll and recent election shows this to be true."

"The reason we came here today, Mr. President, is to respectfully request that something be done about Mr. Benson. Our party will continue to lose prestige with the farm vote if he remains in office until the November election."

Dairy Supports May Continue

The President thought for a moment, then favored his visitors with the traditional Eisenhower grin.

"Gentlemen, I knew the purpose of your visit today and I appreciate your frankness. I shall be equally frank with you. I have given this matter a lot of thought recently and want you to know that I recognize and am sympathetic with the problems of Republican members of Congress in farm areas."

"However, I have no intention of requesting the resignation of Mr. Benson. You may not agree with me, but I am convinced he is doing a good job. I could not in conscience fire a man I think is doing a good job."

What if Mr. Benson voluntarily offers his resignation?" asked Rep. Miller. "Do you mind telling us how you might be disposed in that event?"

"Well, that hasn't been done," replied the President, "and to the best of my knowledge is not in prospect. But I think I can tell you that Secretary Benson has agreed to reconsider his support price order that is effective on April 1. At the request of the White House, he is giving this further study and may have an announcement soon."

Billboarded Wife

The State of Texas, biggest of the Union, has only one Republican Congressman. He is Bruce Alger and he comes from Dallas where many Texans register Democrat, then vote Republican. Mr. Alger is seldom seen or heard in Washington. But back in Texas, his attractive wife is often seen, though not heard.

Her picture has been adorning the landscape on huge billboards advertising "GLADIOLA CAKE MIX."

"I love to serve Gladiola cake and coffee," says beautiful Mrs. Bruce Alger, on billboards which meet the eye along Texas highways.

Some Congressmen remark that if Bruce Alger was seen as much around Washington as his wife is on the billboards of Texas, Dallas would have a real Congressman.

Al Dorne's School

By Bob Considine

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 5—(INS)—Split a coffee today with one of the most intelligent and gifted men I know, the artist Al Dorne.

Dorne was born in cold-water flat poverty in New York, never got beyond the seventh grade, had an unhappy career as a pug, began his career painting circular black eyebrows just like his around the eyes of toy dolls, and for a long time has been a $100,000 a year illustrator.

Moreover, he started his own school a few years back and remains its president. It is the Famous Artists School of West-Conn. It was formed on a simple premise, and that is that almost everybody would like to be able to draw a straight line or paint something, anything. The school has no classrooms or studios. Its instruction is done by mail. The students are in every state in the U. S. and all the provinces of Canada, plus 49 other countries. The faculty includes Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos, Harold von Schmidt, Al Parker, Bob Fawcett, Fred Ludenkens, Peter Helck, Austin Briggs, John Atherton, Ben Stahl and other top commercial artists. It has become a $5,000,000 business, and its faculty members—who advise and criticize by mail and by their articles in the schoolbooks—now find themselves burdened by an additional annual income of $9,000 in their share of what started out to be largely a labor of love.

Who takes the courses? Well, undergrads include Charlie Wilson, former Secretary of Defense, C. R. Smith, president of American Airlines, Dinah Shore, Red Skelton, Van Johnson, nuns, bricklayers, big league ballplayers and Wall Street brokers. And inmates of prisons. Seven years ago a man wrote Dorne from the clink at Attica, N. Y., expressing a wish that he could afford the course. Dorne sent him a scholarship and art materials.

Now there are 55 prisoners

among the school's students, all checked with the wardens and rehabilitation officers. One of the best is Samuel Reese, who matriculated under somewhat unusual circumstances. He was in the death house at Missouri State Prison. If he somehow got a reprieve, he swore in his letter of application, he hoped to devote the rest of his life to art and help others appreciate its meaning. He got the reprieve, as it turned out, and now is a lifer, takes a course that is paid for by a priest, and teaches a night art class in the same sneezer.

The famed faculty members meet face to face with their mail order Michelangelos whenever business or pleasure takes them about the country. Fawcett gave a lecture to students when in Detroit not long ago. One member of the class asked to be excused. He sent Fawcett a bare cartoon of himself behind bars in ball and chains, with the caption, "Sorry I can't make it—I'm all tied up."

Most popular themes among prisoner-artists: religious pictures, followed by light, bright outdoor scenes—often featuring a blazing sun.

Applicants undergo the rigors of filling out a personal history sheet which makes the F.B.I. and the A.E.C. look slipshod by comparison. Drawings ranging from thin-line cartoons of the Otto Sogolow school to the lush beauties of Whitcomb are corrected on clear plastic over the original and returned. Tart notes go out to lagging students ("How could a fellow who swears he admires the nimble lyrics of Oscar Hammerstein turn in such a carelessly composed cartoon?") Sometimes a letter informs a student that he has a job.

Dorne's next project: an off-beat correspondence school in writing. "I never met a guy who didn't think he could write," he told us, "Including you."

FSTC Sending Delegation To SCPA Conclave

Local Members Named To Panels

FROSTBURG — Sixteen students and three faculty advisers of Frostburg State Teachers College will travel to New York City during March to attend various conventions. Representatives of State-To-Date and of Nemacon will attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association March 12-16. Those participating in the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers will be at conference March 19-22.

Nemacon will be represented at the CSPA convention, year-book division, by Susan Eader, 1959 activities editor, Judith Wilson, 1959 organization editor, Docia Gilliam, 1959 Sophomore editor, Mary Frances DeLuca, 1959 business staff, and Mrs. Helen B. Silverthorne, faculty advisor.

Representing State-To-Date at the CSPA convention will be Patricia Allen, editor-in-chief, Jo Epperson, editorial writer, Carla Martz Grimes and Sarah Slick, co-editors of feature staff, Marina Tuya, co-editor of news staff, Bill Fair, co-editor of sports staff, Robert Hardman, photographer, Pan Minke and Nancy Parker, co-business managers, and Dr. Lucile N. Clay, faculty advisor.

Patricia Allen will represent Frostburg State Teachers College as voting delegate at the Eastern States Convention, March 19-22. Joan Luttrell is the alternate delegate who will become the official representative next year. James Rankin will represent Student Congress, and John Dunn is the faculty delegate from State. About 600 delegates will attend the conference.

"School Newspapers Move Education Forward on the Campus" is the theme for the teachers college division of the CSPA convention. The first general meeting will be held March 13, when William D. Boutwell, director of the teenage book club, New York, will speak. Following this will be a tour of the New York Times building.

A clinic devoted to layout of papers will be held March 14, at 9:30. Dr. Earl Robacker, chairman of the high school English Department of White Plains, New York, will criticize the papers. Following the clinic, Jacob Jancowitz, education editor of the New York World Telegram and Sun, will speak.

Friday afternoon there will be three student panels. Patsy McGill will be chairman of the group discussing "Organization of Editorials and Editorial Problems in College Newspapers." Sarah Slick will be a member of the panel discussion "Censorship." Pan Minke will participate in the panel on "Sports."

A business meeting will be held in the assembly suite of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel at 10 a.m. Saturday where the president of the TC division of the CSPA will be elected. Following this meeting the convention will close with the convention luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

The general theme for the Eastern State Convention, March 19-22, is "Guiding Youth in the Era of the Guided Missile." All meetings will be held at the Hotel New Yorker where the FSTC delegates will stay.

March 19 will be devoted to registration, tour of various New York schools, a leadership training session, and a tea and social in the evening at the New York University.

Friday, general sessions will begin at 9 a.m. The sessions will be made up all day of student faculty groups with a conference luncheon at the Hotel New Yorker. A prominent speaker will address the delegates at the luncheon on a current education topic.

Among the various topics to be discussed at the Friday general session will be "Good Teacher-Pupil Relationships in the Modern School," "Importance of Professional Education Courses," and "Helping the Teacher to Keep Up With the Times."

Saturday a general session business meeting will begin at 9:30. The delegates will leave New York at noon for Frostburg.

Mt. Savage Homemakers Discuss Club Projects

MT. SAVAGE—The Mt. Savage Homemakers Club met a recent afternoon at St. George's Parish Hall with Mrs. Sara Carter, president, presiding.

The meeting was opened with The Lord's prayer and the Homemakers collect read by Mrs. Louis Haus. Mrs. Harry Long, citizenship chairman, led the flag salute. Roll call was answered by eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Lawrence Butler.

Mrs. Howard Huff, music chairman, reported on the hymn of the month, "Breath On Thee, O Breath of God" which was sung by the group.

Mrs. Raymond Yutzky, reading chairman, reported on a new book which was added to the club library.

Mrs. Louis Haus gave a report on beads purchased for the bead making class scheduled for today.

Frostburg Scouts Receive Honors At Court Of Awards

Boy Scout Troop No. 42, sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Frostburg held a charter night and court of honor with a number of scouts receiving merit badges and other awards. Among the top honor winners were the two scouts shown above. At the left, Mr. and Mrs. D. Varner Carpenter

Jobless Pay Checks Mount Steadily In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, March 5 (AP)—West Virginia. Also included in the total claims were 1,658 filed by veterans and furloughed federal workers.

Jobless benefits to those covered by the state fund, the veteran's act and the Social Security law climbed to $971,303 last week, a new peak for the current period of economic recession which dates back to about October 1954.

The unemployment checks went to persons covered by the state unemployment compensation fund, veterans qualified under a 1952 readjustment act, and furloughed federal workers covered by a section of the Social Security act.

Ash said the February payments were up 18 per cent, or $517,665, over January. They were $2,274,806 higher than the February last year.

Weeks for which compensation was paid in February, Ash explained, totaled 148,522 — up 17 per cent from January and up 167 per cent from February a year ago. Average weekly payments of $22.97 in February were 18 cents above January and $2.51 higher than a year earlier.

Ash said the number of claimants receiving their first payment in February was 17,377. That was only 435 over the January figure, but 10,731 above February, 1957. There were 1,510 claimants in February who received their last payment under the 24-week benefit year.

Meanwhile, U. S. Labor Department figures for the week ended Feb. 22 showed West Virginia among the nation's leaders from the standpoint of workers covered by unemployment compensation who were out of jobs.

Montano led the nation with a figure of 14.4 per cent of jobless workers among the insured total. Oregon had 12.1 per cent, Kentucky 11.8 per cent, and Michigan, North Dakota and West Virginia, 11.4 per cent each.

The national average for that week was 7.5 per cent. Ash doubted, however, whether comparative figures were too accurate because of wide differences among states in unemployment insurance coverage.

The West Virginia arrangement is regarded as one of the more liberal in the country, Ash said. Another state department report showed that initial jobless claims filed in the week ended March 1 were down 115 from the previous week to 5,715.

All claims for last week, however, totaled 33,546, substantially above the 30,479 in the preceding seven days. The total claims included 27,831 of the continued variety — those which must be refiled only every two weeks.

Of the 33,546 claims filed last week, 27,732 were of the intrastate variety. The total also included 4,156 interstate claims filed by West Virginians actually laid off in other states — such as in the auto industry in Detroit — but drawing benefits in at 9 a.m. at the fire hall. Birthday greetings were sung to Mrs. Raymond Yutzky and Mrs. Lloyd Wade. The monthly prize was won by Mrs. Haus.

A discussion about the club's project, purchases of instruments for Mt. Savage School Band, followed. Mrs. Haus, project chairman, was asked to contact the school music instructor to determine the school band's present needs.

Announcement of the trip to Washington, for the annual Flower Show was made and the club donated $2 to the Heart Fund.

Mrs. Harry Lang was appointed publicity chairman for the remainder of the year. Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Deffenbaugh and Mrs. Frederick Miller.

The club will be given a demonstration by the Lonaconing 4-H girls at the March meeting.

Telephone Rate Hike In W. Va. Cut By PSC

CHARLESTON, March 5 (AP)—The Public Service Commission has trimmed $264,000, on an annual basis, from increased residential rates which the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. put into effect in West Virginia last Sept. 23.

The PSC announced today it has granted C&P a $666,000-a-year increase in toll charges for station-to-station long distance calls between West Virginia points and in related overtime toll charges. The toll increase was authorized effective as of yesterday.

The $264,000 comes off the $3,987,000 increase in rates which C&P put into effect last September. It was put into effect under bond to cover refunds in case the PSC ultimately allowed a smaller amount.

Under the order announced today, basic monthly residential rates which have been in effect since September must be reduced by the following amounts: 15 cents for private lines, 10 cents for two-party service, and 5 cents for four-party and rural service.

The order means C&P must refund to its 256,000 residential subscribers in the state the difference between the rates now authorized and the amounts paid since September, plus 6 per cent interest.

The PSC estimated the new residential and intrastate toll rates will mean increases of $4,389,000 in the state and $1,148,000 in net annual income, as compared to revenues prior to last September.

New toll rates represent an increase of five cents on intrastate station-to-station calls costing 25 cents or more.

The PSC calculated the rates on the basis of allowing C&P a return of 6.33 per cent on its net

Westernport Ends Water Problems

WESTERNPORT — The water shortage in the Town of Westernport is now over the "hump" according to Mayor Okey E. Michael. For a period of over three weeks the shortage was very serious, he said. Many water consumers were leaving their faucets run all night to keep the water from freezing in their homes during the extremely cold weather.

Yesterday morning there was 14½ feet of water in the reservoir adjoining the filtration plant. Westernport Hill, and three feet of water in the auxiliary tank adjacent to the new Bruce High School.

On Sunday and Monday nights March 2 and 3 the town purchased water from Piedmont two hours each night and Tuesday morning there was 15 feet of water in the tank on Westernport Hill. This tank holds 17 feet, or 750,000 gallons of water when filled.

No water was bought from Piedmont Tuesday night although water dropped a half foot in the reservoir on the hill it gained three feet in the auxiliary tank.

original cost rate base. C&P had harked for earnings of at least 7 per cent, although it presented its case during hearings before the PSC on the basis of rates needed to provide a 6.42 per cent return.

Close to 80 per cent of the state's population lives in territory served by C&P. It serves all the state's main population centers except Bluefield, Welch and Princeton.

The proposed tariffs increasing basic residential rates were filed by C&P in April last year. The toll increase was contained in a supplemental petition filed in January this year.

English Club Has Memorial For Mrs. Lake

PARSONS, W. Va.—A memorial service for Mrs. Anna E. Baker Lake of Parsons was held when the Parsons English Club met for their regular meeting in the City Building recently. Mrs. Lake, who died February 18 at the age of 88, was a charter member of the club and a past president. The service in charge of Mrs. Floyd M. Ball included the reading of Mrs. Lake's obituary by Mrs. M. D. Collison, the reading of the 23rd Psalm and a memorial oration dwelling upon her many splendid qualities and her outstanding religious and community interests. Two other charter members of the club, Mrs. H. U. Freeman and Mrs. W. F. Lipscomb were present.

Mrs. M. D. Collison, president, presided over the meeting which was opened by the group singing "The Star Spangled Banner," followed by the club collect and the flag salute.

The group voted to sponsor a girl as a candidate for Queen of the Parsons Volunteer Fire Department this summer.

Mrs. Luther H. Bennett was in charge of the program, "Great Men and Women Born in February" and introduced Mrs. George Hart who spoke on Charles Darwin and Mrs. Warren H. Rightmire who spoke on "Abraham Lincoln and the Four Women in His Life." Miss Kathleen Hall sang a solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harry Yawney and also led in group singing.

Mrs. William Pratt was in charge of the social hour. Mrs. Luther H. Bennett and Miss Kathleen Hall were contest winners.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. M. D. Collison, Mrs. Martin Simmons, Miss Kathleen Hall, Mrs. Warren H. Rightmire, Mrs. Eva Kenney, Mrs. Charles Buchanan, Mrs. Gay Nestor, Mrs. Virginia Schrecongost, Mrs. Donna Tubbergen, Mrs. William L. Pratt, Mrs. Floyd M. Ball, Mrs. Luther H. Bennett, Mrs. H. H. Bonner, Mrs. Virginia Patch, Mrs. H. U. Freeman, Mrs. Frank Lipscomb, Mrs. George Hart and Mrs. Harry Yawney.

PSC To Hear Water Rate Increase For Piedmont

Hearing Is Set For April 30

PIEDMONT—The Public Service Commission has set Wednesday, April 30 at 10 a. m. for a hearing on the Town of Piedmont's application for raising municipal water rates, according to Mayor Rodney Baker.

A letter from M. F. Wright Jr., PSC secretary, was read by Clerk Ormond Ledlow at the regular council meeting last night. Commissioner Joseph Maybary presided.

The letter stated in part: "It is ordered that leave be granted to any one interested in filing objection to said application with the commission at any time on or before April 30, 1958 and that this matter be set forth at the hearing to be held in Charleston at the Capitol at 10 a. m. April 30, at which time and place the applicant may appear to present its application, and any one may appear and make such objections thereto as may be deemed proper.

"Piedmont will give notice of the filing of application, and of time and place of the hearing by posting a copy of this order at its office where bills for water service are paid for at least 30 days for public inspection, and by publishing a copy of this ordinance once a week for two successive weeks prior to April 30 in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the Town of Piedmont, Mineral County, making mention of the hearing."

If the request for the new rates is approved by PSC, it will amount to $4,667 in additional revenue. The increase is based on the need for additional money for operation and maintenance of the water system.

The present minimum charge of $1.20 per month will be increased to $1.60. Additional money is also needed for higher prices of water pipe, chlorine and other materials, and for a proposed increase in wages for those working on the water system.

Church Launches Enquirers' Class

FROSTBURG — Beginning this Sunday and continuing during the Sundays in March an Enquirers' Class will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Broadway and Stoyer Street, Frostburg, at 4 p. m. This is for persons interested in finding out more of the teaching, the worship, and the practices of the Episcopal.

It is what its name implies, an opportunity to ask questions and to learn without commitment. The four Sundays will have the following topics as a broad base for discussion:

March 9, Worship in the Episcopal Church.

March 16, The Faith in the Episcopal Church.

March 23, The Ministry in the Episcopal Church.

March 30, The Bible as Fundamental to the Episcopal Church.

The rector, Rev. H. Martin P. Davidson, O.G.S. will welcome all in the community to these classes. If there is demand, they will be resumed after Easter. These classes are part of the contribution that St. John's Church would make to the community during Lent.

Keyser Guard Lists 33 On Training Plan

KEYSER — Battery C, 201st Field Artillery Battalion, Keyser National Guard, has enlisted its 33rd recruit for the six-month active duty training program, according to Capt. Henry E. Will, commanding officer.

Pvt. Renick C. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Machir Williams, Moorefield, is a 1957 graduate of the University of Maryland with a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture. He will begin his tour in April along with Pvt. Bobby C. Flinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Flinn Sr., Moorefield.

Due to return to Battery C after six months training are six members who have completed RFA training. These include Pvt. James E. Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Butts, McCoole; Pvt. Thurman R. Fike, son of Herman Fike, Limestone Road; Pvt. Von A. Mosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman W. Mosser Sr., Barnes Street; Pvt. John R. Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mills, D Street; Pvt. Jack O. McGreevy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen McGreevy, Mt. Vernon, Ohio and Pvt. Ernest C. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Miller, Mineral Street; Pvt. Carl F. Blizzard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Blizzard, Westernport, is presently undergoing six-months training at Fort Knox, Ky.

With returning Guardsmen completing RFA-5 six-month training, Battery C will have 50 per cent of the 101 men in its ranks qualified with prior service or six-months active duty. Thirty members have taken required training with one in process and two scheduled.

Six other Guardsmen are on order to take mandatory training after graduation from high school (21 per cent of the Keyser unit are either World War II or Korean veterans).

The first leg of RFA training consists of eight weeks basic training at Fort Knox and Fort Jackson, S. C., the same training given all Regular Army recruits. After combat basic the trainee is given leave of absence and upon return is sent to specialized schools to study communications, mechanics or artillery for eight weeks. The remaining eight weeks in the tour of duty consist of unit training where newly acquired skills and training are practiced under realistic field conditions.

Allegany High School's Campers dropped their final game of the 1957-58 basketball season to South Hagerstown High's Rebels in the Hub City last night by the score of 60-50 and finished in a tie for third place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League with North Hagerstown and Martinsburg but Gary Shook, Allegany junior, edged Pat Boyer of the Rebels by the margin of a single point, 180 to 179, for the circuit's individual scoring title. Boyer Gets 26 Points

Shook went into the final game of the season with a six-point lead over Boyer in the close scoring race and despite a 26-point performance last night the Hagerstown player was unable to overtake the Camper sharpshooter who collected 21 tallies against Nick Scallion's quint.

The Rebels led at the quarters, 20-16, 34-28 and 47-43 but their victory failed to pull them out of last place where they finished three games back of the three teams deadlocked for third place.

Boyer's 26 points paced the scorers. The Rebels' ace collected seven field goals and converted 12 of 14 shots at the foul line. Shook's 21 markers came on eight fielders and 5-8 at the charity stripe.

Glenn Davis of Allegany fouled out with 28 seconds remaining in the third period.

The Rebels outscored Allegany 21 to 17 from the field and hooped 18 of 27 foul shots to the Campers' 16 for 27. Nineteen personal fouls were called on each team.

Allegany wound up its season with a 5-5 record in the league and an overall mark of twelve wins and nine losses. South Hagerstown was 2-8 in the league and 6-15 for the entire season. The lineups:

Score Fans Six In Three Innings

TUCSON, Ariz., March 5 (AP) — Southpaw Herb Score today dispelled any doubts — for the time being at least — of his return to the stardom he enjoyed before being felled by a line drive which hit him in the eye last May 7.

The Cleveland Indians' pitcher hurled three innings in an intra-squad game. In his first appearance on the mound under game conditions since being injured, Score struck out six men. Four of the first five batters to face him were strikeout victims.

He weakened a bit after that and gave up a run on two singles and a pair of walks.

"Felt great," Score said in the clubhouse later. "Had a little trouble getting my curve over, but my fast ball was good and I was throwing as hard as I could."

Skiing Conditions Reported Fair

CHARLESTON, March 5 (AP) — The State Conservation Department forecast fair skiing conditions this weekend at Cabin Mountain and Weiss Knob in Tucker County near Davis.

The department reported today that snow was drifted well between the upper and lower toes and the bowl areas at Cabin Mountain, but that the open slope was wind-blown and icy.

The Cabin Mountain beginners slope was described as fair to good, with snow drifts between 15 and 20 feet, the weather cloudy and the temperature 40 degrees. Snow was drifted well at Weiss Knob but some ice was on the skiing area.

Podres, Snider Suffer Injuries In Auto Mishap

X-Rays Are Taken, Show No Fractures

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 5 (AP) — Preliminary wet plate examination of the X-rays of Johnny Podres' neck and Duke Snider's knee for possible fractures proved negative late today.

Podres and Snider, Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher and outfielder, respectively, were injured at 12:10 Wednesday morning when a small sports car, driven by Snider, bumped over a rail to an abrupt stop as he made a wrong turn off a highway and across some railroad tracks.

Zimmer Is Bruised — Don Zimmer, Dodger shortstop, suffered a bruise on the forehead but took part in the first squad game Wednesday.

Snider reported he could have worked out. His left knee, operated on last December, still was slightly swollen from the bump he received in the accident.

Podres, who suffered a gash on the forehead requiring six stitches, complained of a slightly stiff neck, and the X-ray was taken as a precaution. A dry plate reading will be taken by Dr. Walter McCorkle, radiologist, Thursday.

The accident occurred when the three Dodgers were returning to camp from a drive-in movie. Podres and Zimmer were thrown against the windshield by the abrupt stop.

Snider's knee has been the big question mark in camp this spring, and five X-ray pictures were taken to be sure the still ailing knee was not seriously injured. The swelling was kept down by ice packs, and although there was slight swelling, he reported no additional pain.

Duke Takes Blame — "It was all my fault," said Snider afterwards. "We weren't going very fast but we were trying to cross the tracks on a street which didn't cross the tracks."

All three players said the car was going no more than 10 miles an hour. It was the sudden stop which caused the damage.

The players were apparently rushing to beat the team's 12:30 a. m. curfew. No disciplinary action was planned by the Los Angeles front office. Buzzi Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, insisted that the players had violated no rules. Local police did not enter the case.

Shook Captures "Triple Crown"

Gary Shook of Allegany High School has won the "triple crown" in basketball scoring for the 1957-58 season.

He finished on top in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League with a total of 180 points last night, nosing out Pat Boyer of South Hagerstown, 180 to 179, after having bagged the W.M.I. League and city scoring titles.

Shook scored 67 goals and 46 fouls for his 180 total in the CVAL. Boyer had 61 goals and 57 fouls for his 179. Both players were in 10 games. The Allegany sharpshooter copied city scoring honors with 399 points in 21 contests. He scored 133 goals and 93-146 fouls. His closest competitor was Junior O'Neal of Fort Hill with 128 goals, 105-147 fouls and 361 points. Shook copied the W.M.I. League scoring crown with 230 points in 10 games.

"I have been invited to go to a warmer climate numerous times since I began coaching here," he said. "However, this is the first time anyone provided the transportation."

Sportsmanship Commission To Announce Trophy Winner

School Group Will Meet Tuesday Night At Allegany High

The winner of the third annual Sportsmanship Trophy which goes to a county school each year will be announced at a meeting of the Allegany County Sportsmanship Commission Tuesday, March 11 at 7:30 p. m., at Allegany High School, it was announced yesterday by William J. Faherty, athletic director at Allegany High and advisor to the group.

Previous winners were Beall High School in 1957 and Bruce High School in 1956.

Objectives Stressed — The number one objective of the sportsmanship group when it was formed three years ago was to promote better sportsmanship in the county public high schools. From the comments of various officials during the season the group feels that it has made progress to this end. The secondary purpose was to present a trophy to the team with the greater number of points on a sliding point scale ranging from minus seven to a plus seventeen.

During the winter a group of students from the county schools have been attending games a distance from their homes for the purpose of judging the sportsmanship of the various county schools. These students are dedicated to the purpose of promoting sportsmanship. They have made talks to their student body, and they have placed posters on bulletin boards so that good sportsmanship is ever before the student body.

These boys and girls pay their own way to and from the various games by pass.

Gene Eagan Heads Group — Leaders of this year's group were: President, Gene Eagan, football and track star and president of the Student Congress of Beall High; Vice president, Bill Sitter, who participated in football and track and is president of the senior class at Allegany High; Recording secretary, Sandra McKinley, president of the Student Council and captain of the cheerleaders at Valley High School, and Corresponding secretary, Beverly Cover, drum major of Allegany High. Faculty advisors are James White of Bruce; James Spitznas, Valley High; Ralph Koontz, Beall High; Robert Herboldsheimer, Mt. Savage High, and William J. Faherty, of Allegany High, county advisor.

Past presidents of the commission were Don Paye, Allegany (1956) and Conrad Filsinger, Beall High (1957).

West Virginia Topheavy Favorite In Richmond Games

Eight Teams Tangle Today In Tourney

Mountaineers Play Davidson At 4 P. M. In Conference Tilt

RICHMOND, Va., March 5 (AP)—Veteran West Virginia, sparked by a sophomore, and three teams with not a senior in the starting lineup share most of the championship speculation on the eve of the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament.

West Virginia, three-time conference champion with 33 victories in a row in league competition, is a topheavy favorite to win the eight-team playoff and represent the circuit in the NCAA championships.

Should the Mountaineers, the nation's No. 2 team, be upset somewhere along the way, the teams voted most likely to replace them at the top are George Washington, Virginia Tech and The Citadel.

The Citadel, with a starting lineup composed of four sophomores and a junior, meet Richmond's mixture of veterans, sophomores and freshmen in tomorrow's opening game at 2 p.m.

West Virginia, boasting four seniors and sophomore sensation Jerry West as starters, takes on Davidson at 4 p.m. to wind up the opening session.

The night program sends George Washington, with a starting lineup of all sophomores and juniors, against Furman at 7:30 and Virginia Tech, with three freshmen and two sophomores as starters, against William and Mary at 9:30.

Orioles Will Farm $100,000 Bonus Player

Nicholson Slated For Class D Team

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 5 (AP)—Dave Nicholson, the St. Louis sandlot whiz who cost the Baltimore Orioles nearly $100,000, will be shipped to a farm club.

Manager Paul Richards said today after sizing up the big boy's performance to date, "Nicholson will definitely be sent to a minor league club before we return to Baltimore. Chances are he'll be sent to a Class D team to begin his development program."

The 210-pound 18-year-old outfielder has had trouble finding his batting eye. In four times at bat in two intrasquad games, Dave has struck out three times and tapped an eight-foot roller on which he was thrown out by the catcher.

Nicholson starred in high school, hitting .334 in 1956 and nearly .300 in the Ban Johnson League in 1957.

The Oriole Class D affiliates are Pensacola, Fla., Bluefield, W. Va. and Fitzgerald, Ga.

Meanwhile, the Orioles "little man who isn't there" when the training season rolls around, Willy Miranda, is scheduled to show up tonight.

And Richards says it will cost the shortstop a $500 fine for his tardiness.

"I fined him last year and made it stick and I'll do it again," said Richards. "He's not even my No. 1 shortstop this time."

Miranda, who hit only .194 last season, reportedly was fined $1,000 for reporting late in 1957. He got about $11,000 in salary last season but hasn't signed a new contract.

SPORTS GRILL by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 5 (INS)—Time was when young fellows were advised to join the Navy and see the world.

The advice was all right. Of course, the pay wasn't much. But the work wasn't too tough, nor the discipline too bad. And the food was plentiful and good.

But a young fellow can do immeasurably better today, provided he is a good tennis player. Amateur or pro. He'll be paid a little better if he's a pro.

Time was when unfeeling folk referred to world-traveling amateur players as tennis bums. Nowadays, they are called ambassadors of good will. And no doubt they are just that.

These thoughts came to mind when we noted that the vanguard of the ambassadors of good will are on their way to South America, Europe, Asia and Africa.

Among the early departures were Althea Gibson, the women's champion, Mrs. Dot Knode, who is an old hand at foreign tennis travel, and Barry Mackay, one of the brighter young stars.

Miss Gibson, Karol Fageros, Mrs. Bev Fleitz and Budge Patty will give the Caribbean a whirl with a start at Colombia. Mackay and Mrs. Knode open their invasion in North Africa.

This is nice work if you can get it. Havana, Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires are nice places to visit. Delightful country clubs, the best of hotels and many eager hosts await you.

You have heard a lot about troubles in Africa, but that doesn't bother the tennis players. They still can have a wonderful time in such spots as Cairo, Casablanca and Alexandria.

Then on to Istanbul, Athens, and Rome, or they may elect to spend some of the winter on the Riviera at Cannes or Nice or any other spot where the food is good, the sunlight bright and the entertainment delightful.

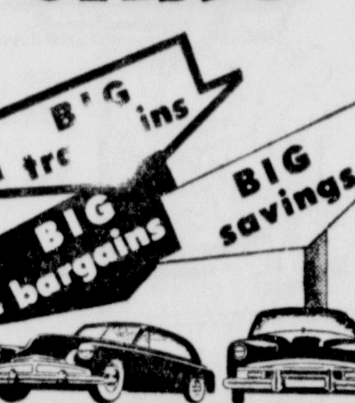

The Navy always has served good food. But no sailor ever had breakfast served in bed unless he was in sick bay. Nor does the Navy favor nice snacks between meals or midnight suppers.

The Navy does not go in for champagne, nor can a lad decide he'd like to split a lobster on occasion. But the tennis players can and do get whatever their little hearts desire.

If they get bored on the Riviera they can move on to Paris, and you know all about Paris in the spring. Or one of the famous European spas.

After which they go to England for a whirl, winding up in Wimbledon. Then it's back home in time for a few eastern tournaments and our nationals. Yes, it's a nice racket.

All-America Dominated By Negro Stars

Chamberlain, Baylor, Robertson, Rodgers Make First Team

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Negroes for the first time dominated the All-America basketball team selected for the Associated Press by 316 sports writers and sports broadcasters representing all sections of the nation.

There are four on the first team announced today—Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Elgin Baylor of Seattle, and Guy Rodgers of Temple.

Don Hennon Picked
The fifth man is Don Hennon, Pitt's little 5-8½ star.

Negroes have made the first team in the past but never more than two. The rise of Negroes to prominence in college basketball follows similar stardom in baseball, boxing, football and track.

Chamberlain, a junior named to the A-A for the second straight year, led the voting with 1,592 points and 297 first team votes on the basis of five for a first team vote and two for a second team placing.

Robertson, a sophomore who put Cincinnati back on the basketball map, was second with 1,330 and 256 firsts. Baylor was third with 1,327 and 249 firsts. Rodgers had 975 and 172 firsts and Hennon 717 and 109 firsts. No one else came near getting 100 firsts.

Bob Boozer, Kansas State's Negro star, was named on a second team along with Archie Dees of Indiana, Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Lloyd Sharrar of West Virginia and Pete Brennan of North Carolina.

West On Third Team

Jerry West, West Virginia sophomore; Tommy Kearns of North Carolina, Mike Farmer of San Francisco, Johnny Green of Michigan State and Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame, comprise a third team.

The top 15 players each will receive a certificate from the Associated Press.

Twenty-one other players received honorable mention. They include Dom Flora of Washington & are native Pennsylvanians. Chamberlain and Rodgers are from Philadelphia while Hennon hails from Wampum, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh. Rodgers is the only senior on the first five.

Keyser And Romney Open Petersburg Tour Tonight

Vikings Face Martinsburg In 2nd Game

Six West Virginia Class A Schools To Play In Sectional

Six schools from as many counties in eastern West Virginia will vie in the Section 6, Class A basketball tournament which gets under way tonight and winds up Saturday at Petersburg High School.

Petersburg enters the A classification for the first time while the five other schools participated in that class last year.

The entries, the counties they represent and the coaches are as follows:

Romney Faces Keyser

In the opening contest tonight at 7:15, Keyser's Golden Tornado, defending champion and sectional winner for the past four years, will do battle with Romney's High Flyers. Keyser swings into action with a 15-5 record against scholastic opposition, including a pair of wins over Romney, 52-47 and 70-63. Romney puts an eight-game winning streak and a 14-6 record on the line in tonight's contest.

In last year's sectional games Keyser eked out a 66-64 decision over Romney in overtime and defeated Martinsburg in the final game, 53-43.

KHS Wins Four In Row

Keyser who the 6-A sectional in 1956 by whipping Charles Town, 81-40, took the 1955 event by topping Martinsburg, 51-40, and went to the state semi-finals at Huntington before bowing to Mullens, 80-59. The Golden Tornado also bagged the sectional crown in 1954 by sweeping two straight games from Martinsburg, 53-49 and 59-40. Martinsburg grabbed the honors in 1953 by winning two out of three from Keyser.

In the second contest tonight, Martinsburg (12-8) will tackle the Petersburg Vikings at 9 o'clock. Coach "Honey" Crites' Grant countians have graduated from the "B" ranks and their record for the current season is 4 wins and 16 losses. The Bulldogs and Vikings will be meeting for the first time this season.

Two Games Friday

Friday night's semi-finals bring together Charles Town (11-8) and the winner of the Keyser-Romney contest at 7:15 and Franklin's Panthers (11-7) and the team emerging victorious in the Martinsburg-Petersburg battle at 9 o'clock.

Charles Town has not played Keyser or Romney this season. Franklin and Martinsburg have not met but Petersburg dropped a pair of Potomac Valley Conference games to Franklin, 47-43 and 74-57.

Tomorrow night's victors advance to the championship game Saturday night at 8 o'clock and the sectional winner moves on to the Region 3 tournament next week.

Officials for the five games at Petersburg will be Clifton Van Roby and Floyd "Pete" Elliott of Cumberland.

Tom Sites, principal of Petersburg High School, is tournament director.

Friday "B" Pairings

The four-school West Virginia Region Four, Class B tournament featuring teams from Mineral, Hardy, Berkeley and Morgan counties is slated to get under way Friday night at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown.

Piedmont (Mineral) and Bladensburg (Hardy) clash at 7:30 while Paw Paw (Morgan) and Hedgesville (Berkeley) tangle at 8:45. The championship tilt is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Saturday. Gordon L. Simon, Charles Town High principal, is director of this tourney.

Journey Here Friday

Fort Hill High School's court will be the site for the Maryland District One games Friday and Saturday. Championships will be decided among the Class A, B and C schools of the four Western Maryland counties and the three winners will qualify for the state title event at University of Maryland, College Park.

Friday games are as follows: 3:30—Oldtown (Allegheny) vs. Walkersville (Frederick) in Class C semi-final. Winner plays Hancock (Washington) in Saturday night final.

6:00—Clearspring (Washington) vs. Southern (Garrett), Class B semi-final.

7:30—Valley (Allegheny) vs. Brunswick (Frederick) Class B semi-final.

9:00—Frederick (Frederick) vs. Fort Hill (Allegheny), Class A semi-final. Winner plays North Hagerstown (Washington) for title Saturday night.

The Saturday games start at the following times: 6:00—Class C final 7:30—Class B final 9:00—Class A final.

SENATORS -- May Show Improvement, But Not Enough

By WALTER JOHNS
Central Press Staff Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. — Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto has reached a new high in baseball managing as he sits atop a long-legged stool behind the batting cage and watches the Senators in their Washington Senators this year will be a new high for him.

Cookie, who took over the reins of the Senators last May 7, replacing his long-time boss, Charlie Dressen, set a fancy pace under way tonight and winds up Saturday at Petersburg High School.

Petersburg enters the A classification for the first time while the five other schools participated in that class last year. The entries, the counties they represent and the coaches are as follows:

The average baseball observer doesn't give the Senators much chance to make a dent above the bottom but strangely there is optimism here, from Manager Lavagetto to the president, Cal Griffith, and it is based on the tiny parade which, they feel, should be better because of another year's experience.

THE SENATORS don't have a preliminary farm camp, as such, but more scouts have been hired and that at least is a move in the right direction.

"We'll have a better club this year," says Cookie, if only because I feel we'll be better defensively and we have a young pitching staff. We got Rocky Bridges late last year and we think he'll be our regular shortstop. We'll go with Albie Pearson in center and although he's inexperienced, I think he has the makings of another Paul Waner.

"Last year we alternated our catchers but this year there is going to be a battle and we'll have one regular this season. I think we'll be better down the middle. We look for Harmon Killebrew to give Eddie Yost a fight for third and Bob Maiknum, in center and although he's in-whom we got from the Braves, should help us. He's smooth around second and looks like he can do the job."

THE CLUB has added some power with the acquisition of Norm Zauchin from the Red Sox and if he can hit 'em long the Senators will have three power boys in Zauchin, Roy Sievers and Jim Lemon. Sievers, who was $8,000 away from signing at this stage, hit 42 home runs last year to lead the American League.

The Washington pitching staff is horrendous to look at on paper for the club won only 55 games, but Lavagetto is sincerely hopeful that Truman Cleveland, lefty Ralph Lumenti, Camillo Pascual and Pedro Ramos will be better.

Top winner on the club last year was Ramos, who won 12 games and then looked good in winter ball. Pascual rested all winter.

There are a flock of newcomers around, as usual, with Hal Griggs, a 21-game winner for Chattanooga; Don Minnick, a 17-game winner for the same club and young Garland Shifflett, a 14-game winner with Charlotte, listed among the probables. Lument looked good in his major league debut last autumn and Lavagetto needs some southpaw flingers.

Among the catching newcomers is a rough-and-tough-looking individual, Steve Korcek, who is out of the Army. In the infield, Jose Valdivielso, who spent last season at Indianapolis, is back again.

Pearson, probably the shortest player in the majors if he makes the grade, is the big rookie hope. The all-around athlete, who recently won the ball players' golf tourney in Miami, is ticketed for center field. He hit .297 for San Francisco and came to the Senators in the winter-time deal for Pete Runnels.

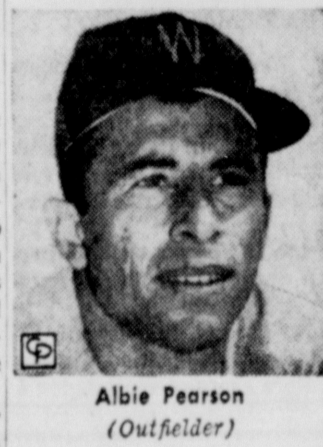

MANY IN CAMP think that Killebrew, signed in 1954 as the Senators' first bonus player, may finally blossom into an infield star. He hit 29 homers for Chattanooga last season before finishing up the campaign with the Senators where he blasted two homers in nine games. He may be the regular third sacker if Yost is traded.

Several farm hands are being looked at. Outstanding among them are John Schaiver, a second baseman who has been in the Army, and a pitcher, Tom McAvoy, a big left-hander who is with the Lamesa, Tex., club but who can throw harder than anyone in camp.

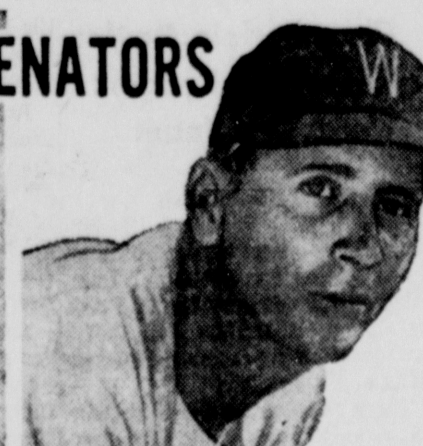

NEXT—The Detroit Tigers.

Jovial Jove Scores Over Greek Game

22,020 Fans Attend Gulfstream Opening

MIAMI, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Bwamazon Farm's Jovial Jove survived a three-way photo finish for a nose decision in the $10,000 Armed Handicap before 22,020 fans today as Gulfstream Park began its 43-day meeting.

Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game just missed while taking place by a nose over Arion, representing J. D. Preece, in the exceedingly tight finish.

Mrs. E. E. Bankhead's Chit Chat was two and a half lengths out of the money while pacing Pucker Up, the 9 to 5 favorite from the Mrs. Ada L. Rice's barn, by a half length.

Jovial Jove, strongly ridden by Sam Boulmetis, paid $122.90, $8.60 and $5.20 after being timed in 1:10 for six furlongs. The five-year-old son of Olympia and Whirling Girl posted his first victory of the year, having taken place money and run fourth in his previous efforts.

Greek Game paid $11.40 and $6.00. Arion returned $4.20.

Quiz Mar, $12.80 winner of the first race, and Tara Tella, winner of the second at $27.70, formed a $290.20 daily double.

Market Scores Advance For Fourth Straight Day

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—The stock market plugged ahead for the fourth straight session in moderate trading today.

The firing of a new Explorer satellite brought scarcely a ripple to the market. Chrysler, prime contractor for the Jupiter-C rocket which shot the satellite skyward, rose 1/4 in pretty active dealings but other missile shares did little.

Steels were early pacemakers when the market roused itself from an irregular state and moved to the plus side. Nonferrous metals, chemicals, motors and oils were gainers.

Rails joined the industrials late in the day as they made progress in a modest technical recovery. Aircrafts were mixed.

Pivotal issues showed gains running from fractions to a point or 2. Small losers spotted the list.

Some encouraging news items backgrounded the action. President Eisenhower emphasized an upturn in the machine tool industry by a direct mention at his news conference. Steels were helped not only by short covering but also by industry statements that steel inventories in the hands of consumers have been reduced and the industry may be nearing the end of its recession.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to $160.90 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails up 50 cents and the industrials up 10 cents.

Of 1,129 issues traded, advances totaled 538 and declines 322. New highs for 1957-58 totaled 16. The three new lows were Curtiss-Wright, General Controls (which

The bidding:

South West North East

1 club Pass 1 diamond Pass

2 no trump Pass 6 no trump Pass

Opening lead: Nine of spades.

The success or failure of today's no trump slam hinged on which suit declarer selected to develop.

The bidding proceeded naturally and when North heard his partner jump rebid to two no trump, he was able to arrive at the slam total merely by adding his 14 high card points to the 19 South had shown.

West opened the nine of spades. With 10 top card tricks in sight, declarer had to choose between diamonds and clubs for the development of two additional tricks. With five cards, including the queen and jack, missing in both suits, the choice would on the surface be reduced to a mere guess, for if either suit broke 3-2, the hand could be won by the simple expedient of giving up one trick in that suit.

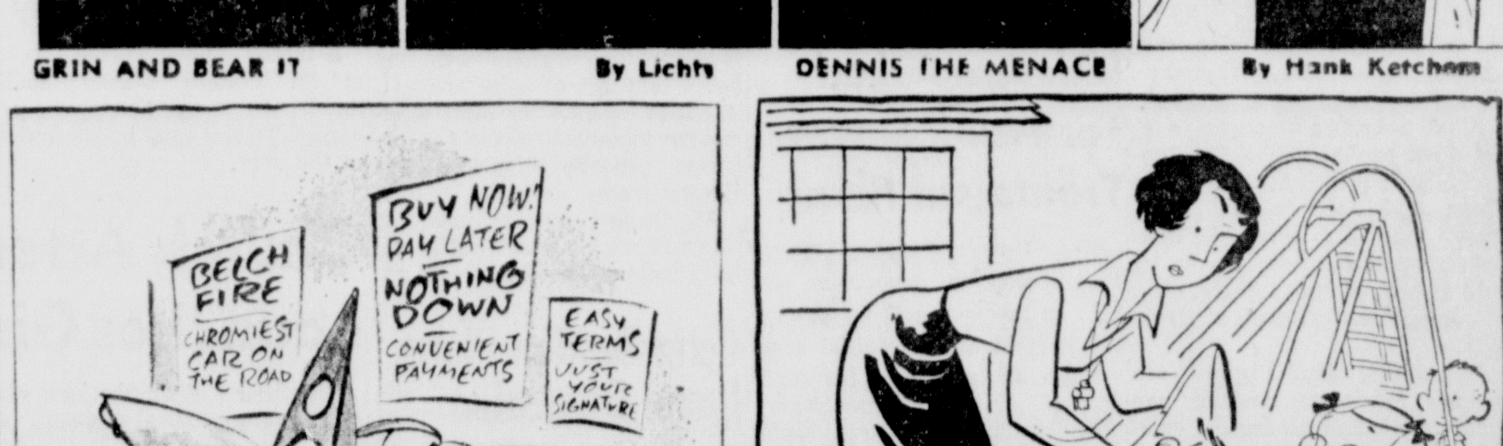

In formulating a plan of action, however, the 4-1 distribution should also be taken into account. Analysis showed that there was a slight percentage in playing for the club suit. If either hand contained a singleton honor, that suit could be established with the loss of only one trick.

But in the diamond suit if there were a singleton honor outstanding, it would avail the declarer nothing unless the singleton were specifically in the East hand, for if West happened to have a singleton honor, East would have two stoppers in the suit.

Selecting clubs to develop, declarer was cautious enough to handle the suit in a manner to protect himself against a holding of Q-J-x-x in the East hand. (If West held Q-J-x-x, there could be nothing for declarer but woe.) He first cashed the ace of clubs and then followed with a low club to the nine. West showed out, and East took the trick with the jack. This established a tenace position in declarer's hand against East's queen, and declarer subsequently entered dummy to finesse East out of his queen and bring the total of tricks to 12.

Sales, Income Taxes Face 50% Increase

ANNAPOLIS, March 5 (P)—House and Senate conferees agreed by a one vote margin tonight to recommend acceptance of Gov. McKeldin's proposals to boost sales and income taxes 50 per cent each.

The agreement, sure to provoke the stormiest legislative battle since the state sales tax was enacted in 1947, was reached after a closed-door meeting of the Senate Finance Committee and a sub-committee from House Ways and Means.

The vote was 13-12, with chairman Turnbull of the Senate Finance Committee casting the deciding vote after conferees deadlocked 12-12.

Under the proposal, the income tax would go up from 2 per cent to 3 per cent on all 1958 income and the sales tax boost from 2 cents to 3 cents on the dollar would not become effective until next January.

Shoremen To Fight

Eastern Shore delegates, steaming over the agreement, promised an all-out fight over it. Baltimore City delegates also were expected to resist it firmly.

The two increases are estimated to raise the 33 million dollars necessary to balance the state's record operating budget of $379,600,000 enacted by the Legislature last night.

The hotly disputed plan—the first decision by any legislative group on the problem—came less than 30 hours before scheduled adjournment of the General Assembly at midnight Thursday.

Before reaching the floor of the House, the report was subject to approval of the entire 33-man Ways and Means Committee which wasn't expected to take it up until about midnight tonight.

If the report is rejected by the committee or by the House, it could throw the whole tax problem back into a conference group and create a possibility of Gov. McKeldin having to extend the legislative session.

McKeldin wouldn't comment on what he will do if the assembly hasn't come up with some plan by tomorrow night to balance the budget. But he did say: "I have submitted a tax plan which I am one million per cent in favor of. If the General Assembly should for any reason report to me it is unable to balance the budget in the allotted time, I shall act then."

The stiffest battle was expected in the House, where some Eastern Shore delegates have threatened to walk out rather than vote for a sales tax.

They discussed a dozen or more proposals but none of them could gain a majority of support. A proposal by the House leadership that the delegates favor a combination of sales and income taxes mustered only 32 votes. This fared as well as any others, or better.

But even House leaders didn't appear happy with the agreement as it was finally worked out. Chairman Boone (D-Balto County) and some of the members of the Ways and Means group were boiling mad when they came out of the committee room. They wouldn't discuss the matter though.

Some of them favored combining sales and income tax adjustments without using the full 50 per cent hike in each.

$7½ Million Sliced
The delay in the effective date of the sales tax to Jan. 1 was made possible by the 7½ million dollars finance committees sliced out of Gov. McKeldin's budget. The tax was to have been effective in August under his plan.

The proposed increase in the income tax, from its present 2 per cent to 3 per cent, will apply to all of 1958 income as recommended by the governor. Since it doesn't take effect until July, however, only half of the increase will be collected from employee pay this year. Tax on the higher rate for the first six months of this year would be due in a lump sum with 1958 returns.

Democratic leaders hope to use the governor's proposals to their own political advantage if they are adopted by the Legislature. They argued: Why should the Legislature work out its own tax program and be identified with it in an election year when the Republican chief executive has already presented them with one?

Bids Are Asked For Trunk Sewer, Treatment Plant

The Upper Potomac River Commission is advertising for bids on two contracts for sewage facilities in the Tri-Towns area.

Bids will be opened March 28 at 2 p. m. in the commission's office in the Liberty Trust Building here.

The first contract calls for the construction of a trunk sewer running from Luke to Westernport and the second for the construction of a waste treatment plant in Westernport.

Free treatment of municipal sewage is to be provided by the plant which will be built by the commission primarily for treatment of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company mill wastes.

Joseph Stichter Reinstated By Police Dept.

Gets Assignment On Traffic Work

Joseph M. Stichter resumed work with the Cumberland Police Department yesterday.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said Mr. Stichter has been reinstated but not as a member of the department's Detective Bureau.

He said the former city detective has been assigned to special traffic work with the rating of patrolman.

Stichter was suspended from the Police Department on January 13 when two indictments on counts of obstructing justice were placed on the open docket.

Late that month, he was found not guilty by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who said the state had not proved the charges.

Stichter had been charged with obstructing justice last October 7 by "unlawfully and corruptly" influencing two girls to leave town and not testify before the grand jury.

The jurist added that Mr. Stichter was guilty of "woeful lack of discretion" and conduct unbecoming a police officer and suggested the Police Department obtain a copy of the testimony and remarks of the court so it could take whatever action it desired.

Mr. Keegan said that he and Police Chief R. E. Flynn had studied the testimony before reinstating Officer Stichter.

He said the officer's record as a member of the department, which is "very good," was taken into consideration.

Details of the reinstatement, he said, are being worked out with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Local Family Injured In Headon Crash

Three members of a local family were injured last night in a headon collision of two autos about three miles north of Hyndman, Pa., on Route 96.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Dorothy Kalbaugh, 36, of 802 Stewart Avenue, and treated at the same hospital was her husband, Donald Kalbaugh, 39, and their four-year-old son, John.

Also treated at the same hospital was the driver of the other car, George Bailey, 39, of Queens, Pa.

Mrs. Kalbaugh suffered head injuries and was reported in "fair" condition. Her husband and son and Mr. Bailey all were treated for scalp lacerations.

Trooper Fred Gentleman of the Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford said the mishap occurred when Mr. Bailey, who was traveling north, crossed the center line of the highway and struck the Kalbaughs auto head-on. No charges have been placed pending the outcome of the investigation.

School Buses To Be Tested

The spring quarterly inspection of Allegany County school buses has been set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 24, 25 and 26, according to Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation in the county public schools.

The following schedule will be used:

March 24—at Flintstone, 8:45 a. m.; at Piney Plains, 10:30 a. m.; at Oldtown, 1 p. m.; March 25—at Fort Hill, 8:45 a. m.; at Westernport, old Bruce High School, 10:30 a. m.; at Valley High School, Lonaconing, 1:30 p. m.; March 26—at Mt. Savage High School, 8:45 a. m.; at Beall High School, Frostburg, 10 a. m.

Mr. Ramey has requested each bus owner to check his buses before the official inspection so that the buses may not be "fouled." Special attention will be given to the signal lights, flashers, turn signals and stop lights. Any not of sufficient brilliance to indicate the other drivers the intentions of the bus operator will be "fouled," Mr. Ramey warns.

All drivers were reminded to check their chauffeur's cards and have them renewed if necessary.

Congregation Plans Panel Discussion

Beth Jacob Congregation will hold a panel discussion tomorrow evening on "Problems of Minorities in a Majority Culture."

Taking part in the panel will be Rev. Randolph W. Keefe Jr., pastor of Grace Baptist Church; Rev. George T. C. Bell, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church, and Robert Kaplan.

The discussion will follow the regular evening services at 8 p. m. After the panel there will be Oneg Shabbath with Mrs. Moses Sacks and Mrs. Stanley Levin as hostesses.

Council To Meet

Our Flag of Cumberland Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in Junior Order hall.

Jaycees Hear About Libraries

Deremer, chairman of the Jaycees' library committee, and Robert A. Mathews, president of the Jaycees. Dr. Zimmerman discussed the general importance of a library to a community, and Dr. Baer spoke on the value to be gained by the formation of a county-wide library. The Jaycees endorsed plans for such a library in this county.

Jaycees Back County Library Proposition

State, Federal Aid Available

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce last night went on record as endorsing the county library program for Allegany County.

Francis Deremer, chairman of the Jaycees library committee, said the Jaycees will notify the Board of County Commissioners of their position in a letter.

The action was taken at Ali Ghan Country Club after Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent of schools, and Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, chairman of the county library committee, discussed the importance of libraries.

Dr. Zimmerman said he thought it surprising that Allegany County does not have a county library when it has one of the best school systems in the state. Fifteen of the 23 counties and Baltimore City have qualified to receive state aid for libraries.

One of the major advantages of the county library would be the ability to obtain more books from the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore.

If a county library is organized here, the Mayor and Council would no longer be under any compulsion to continue the appropriation of about $30,000 a year which is now provided the Cumberland Free Public Library. But a hope was expressed that the city would continue to provide some library support.

County library service can be provided here if the county commissioners vote to establish a county library and appropriate a sum equivalent to not less than two cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. It was pointed out that this does not necessarily mean the County Commissioners must increase the tax rate two cents. The county might be able to budget the necessary $31,000 without increasing the tax rate.

If the county makes such an appropriation, state aid will provide $14,329 additional. Federal library aid also will provide $20,000 for the first year and $4,000 a year thereafter through June 30, 1961.

A seven-member board of trustees appointed by the governor without pay would have charge of the library.

Turkey Dinner Sunday

A turkey dinner will be served at St. Philip's Chapel, South Smallwood Street, Sunday from 1 until 6. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Church Attendance Day Launches Girl Scout Week

Girl Scouts of Cumberland will join Girl Scouts everywhere in the annual observance of Girl Scout Week March 9 to 15, by starting the week with religious observance.

As a part of the Girl Scout promise, "On my honor, I will try to do my duty to God and my country," Scouts will attend church services in each district Sunday morning.

Brownie Scouts, intermediates and senior Scouts and the adult volunteers will attend church in uniform as a group, in each district.

In each case, members will assemble 15 minutes before the service and march into the church in a body. Girls may attend the church in their district or their own church or the one nearest to home or meeting place.

Scouts in Barton will attend the 10:45 service in Barton Presbyterian Church.

West Side Scouts of the Catholic faith will attend mass at St. Peter and Paul Church at 9:30 a. m. assembling at 9:10 in the parish house. Protestants will attend the 11 a. m. service in the First Presbyterian Church, assembling at 10:45 downstairs.

Scouts in South Cumberland will attend the 9 a. m. mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church, while Protestant scouts of South End will assemble in the junior room at Kingsley Methodist Church or in front of Grace Methodist Church to attend the 11 a. m. services at those two places.

In Frostburg and other areas, similar arrangements are being made.

Library Gets 20 Entries Of Artists

Entries are beginning to come to the Cumberland Free Public Library for the annual Tri-State Creative Art Exhibition.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, said yesterday that about 20 entries have been received so far but many more are expected by the March 13 deadline.

Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger is chairman of the exhibition, which again is being sponsored this year by the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women.

Entries will be judged Saturday, March 15, and the exhibit will begin a two-week run on Monday, March 17.

Plans also are being formulated for a teen-agers' art exhibit to be shown at the library after Easter.

Artists throughout the Tri-State area are eligible. All entries should be original works as no copies or number paintings can be accepted. The sponsors assume no financial responsibility in accepting entries but they said the utmost care will be accorded at all times.

Road Projects To Resume As Frost Leaves

The State Roads Commission will give the nod this month to contractors who are engaged in highway construction in this county.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, said the frost is out of the ground in sunny areas and will allow work to resume.

The first job to get under way, he said, will be the Corriganville project which is being built by the Cumberland Contracting Company.

Work on the job will resume March 17, he said, on the Route 40 phase of the contract which calls for the reconstruction of Maryland Route 36 from Route 4 to Corriganville.

Other highway projects, he said, will be resuming between mid-March and early April.

W.Va. Hospitals Are Accredited

Several hospitals in this area were among the institutions in West Virginia which have been named to the annual list of accredited hospitals published by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals.

They were St. Joseph's Hospital, Buckhannon; Davis Memorial and Memorial General hospitals, Elkins; and Preston Memorial, Kingwood.

James S. Getty Takes Over Attorney Post

Donald W. Mason Named Assistant

James S. Getty, Lonaconing, yesterday was sworn in as the new state's attorney for Allegany County by Chief Judge George Henderson in ceremonies at the Court House.

Mr. Getty will be succeeded as assistant state's attorney by Donald W. Mason, local trial magistrate.

Mr. Mason's appointment was announced yesterday afternoon by the new state's attorney and will become effective this morning.

Morris Baron, former Juvenile Court Magistrate, will take over the duties of the vacant magistrate post.

Getty, who will celebrate his 37th birthday Friday, is one of the youngest state's attorneys in the history of Allegany County.

A native of Lonaconing, he was graduated from Central High School in 1939 and attended Potomac State College, Keyser, from 1939 until 1941.

The new state's attorney attended the University of Maryland from 1941 until 1943 when he entered the U. S. Army Intelligence Corps. During his military career he served as a special agent in charge of the Richmond office.

He received his LL.B. from the University of Maryland in June of 1947 and has served as assistant to the state's attorney for the past five years.

He is a member of the Allegany County Bar Association, Maryland Bar Association, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, Lonaconing Republican Club, Lonaconing VFW and American Legion posts, Frostburg Elks and Lonaconing Methodist Church.

He is married to the former Betty Glover of Burlington and is the father of two sons, James Jr., 15, and Gregory, 11.

Mr. Mason is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and the School of Law of Washington and Lee University. He has served as magistrate continuously from May 1952.

Mr. Baron is expected to be sworn in this morning as a trial magistrate, succeeding Magistrate Mason.

Mr. Baron went to Annapolis yesterday and secured his commission from Governor McKeldin.

He was then confirmed by State Senator Charles M. See and is expected to begin his new duties today after he takes the oath of office from Joseph E. Boden clerk of the Circuit Court.

Accompanying Mr. Baron was Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis, who delivered Mr. Mason's resignation.

Recreation Conference Opens Friday

A number of Western Maryland representatives are expected to attend the Governor's Conference on Recreation and Parks to be held tomorrow and Saturday at South High School in Hagerstown.

Lay and professional leaders will meet at the Hagerstown conference to find solutions for their local and state-wide problems in the leisure field.

Two officials of the Cumberland Recreation Department will attend the conference. They are C. Eugene Mason, director, and Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant to the director.

District Forester William H. Johnson will participate in several Friday sessions. He will participate in the closed circuit television program starting at 2:30 p. m. in which he will discuss "Camping in Maryland."

He also will participate in a panel discussion starting at 3:35 p. m. on the question of how to get the most out of hunting and fishing.

G. Ott Romney, deputy director, President's Council on Youth Fitness, will address the conference on "The Challenge to Recreation and Park Leadership" at the opening general session starting at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

At the conference banquet at 7 p. m. Friday, Charles A. Phelan Jr., executive director, American Planning and Civic Association, will speak on "There Must Be a Plan."

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will speak at the Saturday luncheon of the conference. The conference will adjourn at 4:30 p. m. Saturday after a final general session on a look ahead for Maryland's recreation and parks.

Pond Started At Maplehurst

One soil conservation measure on which construction was started in February was the construction of a one-and-one-third acre pond at the Maplehurst Country Club near Frostburg.

Marlin M. Gordon, conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, reported on February activities at a recent meeting of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

Primary purpose of the Maplehurst pond will be the irrigation of greens and fairways.

A number of surveys were undertaken during the past month despite the cold and snow. Included were a 1,700-foot open ditch survey for the farm of Cyril Luker at Oldtown; a 1,250-foot open ditch survey for William Hawkins at Town Creek; and livestock water pond surveys for Harmon Barton at Pine to and Eric Boyer at Piney Plains.

Darby J. Healy became a new district cooper last month for his farm just north of Oldtown. He is interested in a livestock water pond and better grassland cover.

Kiwanis To Hear Talk On Germany

Dr. George Fehrensen will discuss West Germany at the meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p. m. Thursday at Central YMCA.

"The Reconstruction of West Germany since World War II" and "The Relationship of East and West Germany" will be discussed. Dr. Fehrensen, 28, has been in this country 10 months, and will return to Germany in June.

Senate Enacts Ban On River Pier Slots

But New Measure May Have Loophole

BULLETIN

ANNAPOLIS, March 5 (P)—Maryland Legislature enacted legislation today to prevent jai alai with betting and to knock out slot machines on the Potomac River.

By LOUIS G. PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, March 5 (P)—The Senate enacted today legislation to ban slot machines from boats and piers jutting from the Virginia shore of the Maryland-owned Potomac River, but a new cloud of doubt hung over the controversial bill.

Even as the senators were voting to enact the measure by a 19-3 margin, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert was being asked anew about a possible loophole in the measure.

The question dealt with a provision that gambling is prohibited in or on any structure which "cannot be entered from the shore of the state of Maryland by a person on foot."

Sybert was asked whether this would apply to a pier linking the Virginia shore of the river with an island in the Maryland-owned river.

Del. John Parran (D-Charles), whose support of the measure was instrumental in its passage by the House, said such an island exists in the vicinity of Indian Head, Md.

The attorney general told questioners that legal research would be necessary before he could give them his opinion on this point.

A Technicality

The intricate wording of the bill stemmed from a technical necessity to make it statewide in nature. Bills dealing with only local issues are barred by the constitution from introduction during a 30-day session of the legislature.

Parran indicated he might wish to amend the measure if he learns before this session adjourns at midnight tomorrow that it contains such a loophole.

He could do this by proposing an amendment to an identical bill still hanging fire in the House after enactment by the Senate.

If this were amended, Gov. McKeldin could choose whether to sign it instead of the bill enacted today by the Senate. The governor has protested that Virginia anti-gambling laws are flouted by slot machine operations on a boat anchored off Freestone Point and six piers downstream, in Charles and St. Marys counties.

There was virtually no debate as the Senate took final action on the bill before this afternoon. Most of the talking had been spent in a heated debate last week when the normally placid senators unleashed bitter denunciations and engaged in personality clashes.

Effective July 1

Some observers doubt the legislation will mean the end of the Freestone Point boat and the river gambling piers this summer. They point out the bills themselves would not become effective until June 1.

With an estimated eight-million dollars in gross receipts involved, it is expected that operators of the establishments will contest the constitutionality of the bills on grounds they were aimed primarily at a local situation. Such litigation could be prolonged for many months before a final decision is reached.

The House at its afternoon session killed proposals to crack down on auto speeders and strict political appointment of orphans court judges.

A bill that would make suspension and revocation of driver licenses after a certain number of convictions for moving violations failed to muster enough votes to pass.

So did one that would require the governor to appoint replacements to the orphans court from the same political party as that of the individual vacating the bench.

Hughes Bill Passes

A permanent efficiency commission to keep an eye on state agencies won approval of the House. It was sponsored by Dels. G. Hughes (R-Allegany), Latham (D-Talbot) and Riggan (D-Somerset).

In other legislative action today, the Senate gave tentative approval by a 17-10 margin to a bill which enables any city or county to exempt from taxation any tangible personal property necessary to a nuclear research or testing facility. The bill also provides that, where such a local exemption is approved, the state would also exempt such property from its taxes.
